M. D. DENIES CAPTIVITY OF S. F. MATRON

Mrs. Pearl Landers Whitney's Charges of Imprisonment in Livermore Sanitarium Denied by Hospital Head

Dr. V. H. Podstata, Sued Over Alleged "Incarceration" of Opera Producer, States She Was Free to Leave

LIVERMORE, June 14.—Dr. V. H. Podstata, superintendent of the Livermore Sanitarium for mental and nervous diseases, today denied charges made in behalf of Mrs. Pearl Landers Whitney, San Francisco society woman, that she had been "imprisoned" in the institution for the past fourteen weeks.

"Mrs. Whitney arrived with members of her family, and I never supposed her coming here was anything but voluntary," declared Dr. Podstata, who has been named as a defendant in habeas corpus proceedings instituted today in the Alameda county superior court.

INCOMMUNICADO STATEMENT REFUTED.

"She has had the freedom of the place, and has often gone into town to the theater and on shipping tours. She has never made any demand to leave the institution, and nothing has ever been placed in the way of her leaving if she desired it."

Referring to the charge made in the petition for a habeas corpus writ, that Mrs. Whitney had been held in the sanitarium "incommunicado," Dr. Podstata said: "She has been in constant communication since her arrival here, with her mother, her sister and her two daughters."

The charges against the hospital authorities, including Dr. Podstata, Dr. J. W. Robertson, and other officials of the institution, were made in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by a firm of San Francisco attorneys.

The petition declared that although suffering from no mental ailment, Mrs. Whitney has been held a prisoner in the sanitarium since March 8, has been refused permission to see her two children during that period, and was prevented from attending the funeral of her father, John Landers, vice-president of the Bohemian club.

Also, her attorneys say, her former husband, Vincent Whitney, San Francisco capitalist and clubman, has failed to pay her $350 monthly alimony during the period of her "incarceration."

Mrs. Whitney was on her way back from Los Angeles on March 8 in an automobile driven by the son of her sister, Mrs. Helen Tallant, the petition recites, when, without warning, young Tallant drove the car into the Livermore sanitarium grounds and she found herself a prisoner.

ATTORNEYS DENY COMMITMENT ISSUED.

Mrs. Whitney has the reputation of being the first California society woman to stage an opera successfully. In 1919 she produced "Aida" at the Greek theater in Berkeley. Since her divorce from Whitney in 1920, she has organized a motion picture producing company in Los Angeles.

According to Mrs. Whitney's attorneys, no commitment has ever been issued by any court authorizing her incarceration in a mental hospital, and they declare she is suffering from no mental or physical ailment.

Normand Shivers As She Shouts "Fire"

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Shivering in a single garment of dark blue silk, Mabel Normand, film actress, ran from her apartment here today shouting "Fire!" at the top of her voice.

Firemen summoned by her cries failed to save the actress' automobile, which was burned with three others in a blaze which swept the buildings behind the apartment house, in an exclusive residential section. The damage amounted to $20,000.

Her Story Denied

MRS. PEARL L. WHITNEY, whose charge that she is held in a sanitarium for mental diseases although she is sane and no commitment has been issued, is refuted by hospital authorities.

SPEED WARNINGS WILL COVER CITY

Hazard Points to Be Marked in War on Reckless Motorists.

One of the first moves of the city officials in the "speeder" offensive will be to placard the streets with signs indicating non-speed zone and places of danger. This was decided upon as one of the essentials in solving the city's traffic problems by the committee composed of police and court officials and representatives of the Eastbal Safety Council after an inspection tour of the city yesterday afternoon.

Other proposals to be considered by the police department or to be recommended for action by the safety council are:

Closing all school yard gates located in the middle of blocks and establishing gates at corners so that the school children in going to and from school will not cross streets in the middle of blocks in the full stream of traffic.

Launching a movement for an amendment to the state motor vehicle law by which speeders' fines will be turned over the police department to be used in preventing speeding rather than to the street department for the grooming of highways to encourage speeding.

Adding ten mounted patrolmen to the traffic squad.

Framing an orinance requiring motorists to come to a full stop before entering or crossing any of the main arteries of travel.

Abolishing all-day parking within the city fire zone and setting a limit of three hours in the area within the zone and not within the 40-minute parking area.

SPEEDER WARNING THOUGHT BEST.

The inspection committee which tourned the city yesterday to determine the advisability of these suggestions consisted of Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Frank Colbourn, Chief of Police James T. Drew, Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell, Justice Harry Pulcifer, Sergeant Charles Hemphill and A. L. Redlick, one of the directors of the Eastbay Safety Council.

The committee agree that the first move to stop speeding was to warn motorists of the speed limits in the various parts of the city. Commissioner Colbourn and Chief Drew said the complete system should be installed by the end of July.

The system will extend along the Foothill boulevard, Telegraph, College and San Pablo avenues; East Fourteenth and Seventh streets, and the Oakland mole.

At several schools, it was observed that the only entrances to the school yards were so situated that the pupils rushing from the yard at recess periods would naturally run directly into the streets at points where traffic would be moving swiftest. It was suggested that the safety council take this matter before the school department with the recommendation that the gates be established at corners, where the traffic clows down for intersections or where traffic police are stationed.

Police Judge Eward J. Tyrrell declared that incorporated cities no longer require speeder fines to care for streets and that it could be better used by the police departments in the regulation of traffic.

Chief Drew and Commissioner Colbourn said they would take this point under advisement with a view to recommening to the police assiciation of the state that action for an amendment of the law be taken at the next legislature.

One of the problems to be solved, the committee determined, is the speeding on lower Broadway and Seventh street of motorists hurrying to meet boats to San Francisco.

While investigating this situation the committee had the problem worked out in actual practice. William Podsakoff, Hayward, unknowingly played the role of the daring speeder rushing along the Oakland hole at 42 miles an hour. Posakoff passed the car of the officials like the rabbit passed the dog. Then came a muffled roar

ALAMEDA BID FOR 10 'DRY' BOATS WINS

Contract for Rum Runner Chasing Fleet of Coast Guard Service Awarded to A. W. De Young Shipyards

Low Local Bid on Second Block of 15 Vessels Rejected Favoring Seattle Firm; Vessels to Be Used in North

The A. W. De Young Ship Yard of Alameda was awarded the contract to build ten of the new rum runner chasing fleet of the United States Coast Guard Service by Admiral F. C. Ballard. The local yard bid was $22,167 on each boat. Awards were made in Washington this morning.

To the surprise of local shipbuilders, the Moore shipyard's bid, which was the lowest or the block of fifteen boats, was set aside and the contract awarded to the Lake Union Boat Building company of Seattle, the construction cost to be $22,800. The Moore copan's bid or the vessels as $21,883 each.

It is explained, however, that these boats Would be used in the Puget Sound region and that the cost of transporting them north from the Oakland yards would more than offset the difference in the construction cost.

Twenty-five vessels in two blocks are to be built on this coast. The first boat must be turned out in 120 days from the awarding of the contract, and the last one at the end of one year.

The following are the bids submitted by the various bidders on the Pacific coast:

On the ten-boat contract, each: De Young, Alameda $22,167
Moore Dry Dock, San Francisco 22,223
Navy Yard, Mare Island ... 22,391
Ballard Marine Ry. Co., Seattle 23,236
Lake Union Dry Dock & Machine Works, Seattle. 23,330
Tregoning Co., Seattle 24,850
Pacific Coast Engine Co., Seattle 25,370
Kneiss Company, San Francisco 26,500

On the 15-boat contract, the following shipbuilding concerns entered bids as follows on each boat: Moore Dry Dock, San Francisco 21,888
De Young, Alameda 21,993
Navy Yard, Mare Island... 22,162
Lake Union Dry Dock & Machine Works, Seattle. 22,800

CLOUDBURST WIPES OUT TWO TOWNS

Forty Is Set as Death Toll in Tennessee Mountain Floods Following Period of Torrential Downpour

Relief Parties Prevented in Carrying Aid to Stricken District Because Highways Are Washed Out

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 14.—With 13 persons known to be read and some of the bodies recovered, unconfirmed reports this afternoon from the edge of the area, swept by a cloudburst and flood early today, said the number of dead might reach as high as forty. Two towns in the center of the affected area have not been heard from and are believed wiped out.

Aside from the impassable condition of roads, the section is very mountainous, cut by precipitious bluffs, coves and many streams. Most of the houses and farms are in the valleys and lower lands, in the path of rising streams, which feed the Watauga and the Doe Rivers.

No word has as yet been received from their mills and lumbering crews, the news of the destruction of the railroad coming from those persons who have reached the outside of the stricken territory.

RELIEF PARTIES START FOR STRICKEN AREA.

Unconfirmed reports from other sections told of persons missing and believed to have been dead. Relief parties have started from Elizabethton and Hompton and from this city.

Broken roads, however, prevented them penetrating further than the outer edge, except by primitive models.

Early and meager reports told of twelve persons known to be dead at Carden and one at Stoney Creek with ten others reported missing at Hunters. This later report has not been confirmed.

Three bodies have been recovered at Carden, according to latest reports and the body of one child has been recovered at Hunters, where it was said there might be a death list exceeding ten.

About 15 miles of the Laurel Fork Railway from Hampton, Tenn., southeast has been destroyed. This road was originally built to serve a large lumber operation and is a standard guage for the Pittsburgh Lumber company, who have large operations in the stricken territory.

TWO VILLAGES IN PATH OF DISASTER.

No word ha been received from Fish Springs and Butler, Tenn., good-sized villages believed to be in the center of the devastated area. The towns are reported to have been swept away. The cloudburst came as a climax to a day of heavy intermittent rains, swelling streams already raging torrents, and sweeping everything before them.

The stricken area is partly traversed by two branch line railways both of which are badly damaged, and by highways which were not the best in dry weather and now no longer exist.

Bomb Squad Rescues Woman Amid Shots

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, June 14. — Backed by the police tear bomb squad, N. Pigney of San Diego today, amid a volley of shots, raided a South Grand avennue residence and rescued his ill wife, Mrs. Stella Pigney, who told police that Charles Abbott, a private detective, had been holding her captive.

The raid followed an indirect telephone message received by Pigney in which he was told that his wife had been detained by Abbott since her arrival here a few days ago, and that if he attempted to rescue her, he would be shot.

Accompanied by two officers, Pigney went to the address this morning. A pistol fire followed their arrival. Calling assistance, the officers closed in on the residence and Abbott surrendered.

He declared Mrs. Pigney was there of her own accord. He said he was a private detective specializing in divorce cases. It was learned from police that Mrs. Pigney had filed suit for divorce in San Diego.

Abbott was booked on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The boy is expected to recover.

Forms Cabinet

PARIS REDS HEAD NEW GOVERNMENT

By FRANK E. MASON.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, June 14.—Edouard Herriot, radical Socialist and one of the commanding leaders of the Left bloc, which forced President Alexandre Millerand from office, today accepted the premiership of France and agreed to form a cabinet.

Herriot was summoned to the Elysee palace by President Gaston Doumergue. Upon leaving he issued the following statement:

"I have agreed to form a new cabinet. I intend to hold the portfolio of foreign affairs, as well as the premiership myself. I will go to London next Saturday for a conference with Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England."

The stop-gap cabinet headed by Frederick Francois-Marshal had resigned last night, after being in power five days, and the resignation was immediately accepted.

The new cabinet will be composed of members of the Herriot wing of the Left bloc parties. This will give the Left bloc political group complete control of the government.

ROME, June 14.—Giacomo Matteotti, rich Socialist member of the chamber of deputies, who was mysteriously kidnaped while walking in the street with his wife four days ago, was stabbed and beaten to death in a woods thirty miles from Rome, according to information obtained from the gendarmerie. It had previously been reported that Matteotti was in a hospital, alive, but in a serious condition from the attack upon him. Political adherents of Matteotti claim the kidnaping and assault was the work of the Fascisti.

The police have made three arrests, including the chauffeur of Signor Filipelli, editor of the Corriere d'Italia, but they do not believe that the editor himself was implicated. Two other arrests are expected within 24 hours.

Premier Mussolini promises the most drastic punishment of the guilty.

WOMAN HELD AS SUSPECT MAIL ROBBER

Five Men Also in Custody Are Declared by Police to Have Been Members of Gang That Seized Million

Wounded Prisoner Has Been Identified by Five Postal Clerks; Much of the Loot Is Reported Recovered

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, June 14. — Five men and a woman now in custody, one of them wounded five times, were declared today by Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins to have been involved in the daring holdup of a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train, which was looted of valuable mail Thursday night.

The chief declared that some of the robbers had been identified, that the arrest of others was expected, and that part of the loot soon would be recovered.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, June 14. — J. H. Wayne, wounded man held under police guard at the county hospital following his arrest in company with two other men and a woman early today, was identified by members of the crew of the Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train as a member of the banit band which Thursday night held up and looted the train of approximately a million dollars in cash and securities. Five postal clerks viewed Wayne and one of them was positive in identification.

The postal clerks were to be taken later to the federal building to view Walter McComb and his wife, and Paul Wade, who also were arrested when police broke down the door of the McComb flat. Officers found Wayne in bed suffering from his wounds and he was taken to the county hospital. Police first said he was found by the roadside near Hammond. The two men and Mrs. McComb were placed under arrest an taken to the federal building.

AVIATOR ARRESTED UNDER SUSPICION.

Following the identification of Wayne, police and federal operatives expressed confidence that the robber band would be in custody soon. Another man was reported to have been arrested. He is said to have given the name of J. Mahoney and to have been identified as an aviator. He was hurried to an outlying police station, where an airplane was reported to have been used in the escape of the bandits.

Police are also watching movements of a fast motorboat in which the men are believed to have fled from the Illinois shore and in which it was believed their loot was divided. A large amount of cash was found in the McComb apartment but police declined to saw how much.

HALF OF LOOT IS REPORTED RECOVERED.

Officers also stated that with the three arrests practically half of the loot taken in the gigantic robbery had been recovered and that arrests of the rest of the gang and recovery of the remainder of the loot were expected today.

The bandits, choosing only the most valuable mail sacks, got $100,000 in cash and bonds valued at between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

That an airplane may have been used in a quick flight with the loot was believed when police learned that one had landed, loaded, and taken off near the robbery at dawn Friday.

The room where Wayne is under treatment at the county hospital was closely watched today. All beds other than Wayne's had been removed and heavy details of officers watched the prisoner.

Man Views Accident, Release. Duo From Seats, Tows Machine Ashore.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Two men were given a ducking, one of them being slightly injured, when an aeroplane in which they were riding plunged into the bay 350 yards off the Marina today.

The plane is the property of Lawrence Richardson, who went up with his instructor, Vance Breese, 17 Reed street. The engine went dead and the ship dropped into the bay.

The men were strapped to their seats and were frantically endeavoring to rescue themselves when a hero appeared in the person of Earl Eckert, a mechanician, of 660 Precita avenue.

With a rope around his waist he swam out, aided the men in releasing their straps and attaching the rope to the plane returned to the shore. Other men aided in pulling in the ship with the two men clinging to it. Richardson was slightly cut in the face.

NAVAL BLAST CHARGED TO CREW ERROR

Attempt of Turret Force to Set Fleet Record for Target Practice Blamed for Mississippi Deaths

Lieutenant Commander Says Air Compressor in Gun Was Working, Preventing Mechanical Fault in Fire

By COPELAND C. BURG,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Sensational testimony that the turret blast on the U. S. S. Mississippi, which killed 48 gunners, resulted from an attempt of the man-of-war's bluejackets to establish a new target practice record, was given today before the naval board of inquiry investigating the tragedy.

Lieutenant Commander Reinecke, chief gunner officer of the Mississippi, recalled today before the investigators, contradicted his testimony of yesterday when he referred to the exppolsion as a "flare-back."

CAUSED BY HUMAN ERROR, OFFICER SAYS.

A "human" error, rather than a fault in the mechanism of the 14-inch gun, caused the blast when the Mississippi's No. 2 turret gunners strove to beat their own record as the navy's fastest turret crew, Reinecke testified.

The compressed air bore cleaner worked perfectly and the explosion could not have been caused by a tiny bit of flaming silk from a previous charge, the officer told the board.

Decision to forgo an effort to obtain the official eye-witness story of Chief Turret Captain F. J. Rynes, who is dying on the hospital ship Relief, was made late today by the navy probers after it was learned Rynes was too far in the shadow of death to be questioned.

SAN PEDRO, June 14.—Further grim details of the turret blast that killed 48 men aboard the dreadnaught Mississippi last Thursday and injured a dozen, five seriously, awaited telling as members of the naval board of inquiry investigating the disaster gathered for their second session on the stricken battleship today.

Lieutenant Commander F. C. Reinecke, gunnery officer of the Mississippi, said he was stationed in the fire control tower directing the fire of the big guns. He was unawar of any explosion until just before the twelfth salvo was fired. Then, over the telephone he heard a hoarse voice:

"Fire in No. 2!"

RESCUERS DEFY DANGER TO SELVES.

By this time the twelfth salvo had rocked the great ship and flung its tons of steel at the target. The order "cease fire" was signaled. The gunnery officer hastened down from the conning tower. He found smoke pouring out of the turret; saw the chief gunner's mate flooding the magazine with water; saw bluejackets frantically trying to open trapdoors through which the stricken gun crew might escape.

Finally the rescuers gained entrance to the turret; but too late to save those who had been unable to save themselves in the first instant of the tragedy. "Those who entered were extremely daring," he declared. "I thought they were going in with too much abandon, for I had been cautioned by medical officers to tell them to go slow—that the turret must be full of poisonous gases."

Inside they found the bodies of the 48 clustered in groups, huddled close to the various openings. All of the men who had worked with telephone head sets clamped to their ears still wore them when their bodies were found.

The testimony of Captain W. D. Brotherton, commander of the Mississippi, also emphasized the stealth with which sudden, flaming death swept from a gun breech into the crowded turret and extinguished almost half a hundred lives before the rest of the ship knew what had happened.

CREWS STICK TO POSTS IN FACE OF DEATH.

"I blame no one," he said. In conclusion, "All my men did their duty, every one. I have only the highest praise to offer."

There was praise, too for the way the men stuck to their posts after the nerve-shattering news of disaster.

"It was Navy stuff, that's all," said Lieutenant Carl E. Weincke, engineer officer of the Mississippi. "Man, the spirit on this ship is big!"

San Jose Victim's Funeral Arranged

SAN JOSE, June 14.—Arrangements for the funeral of George Allen Byers, San Jose boy who met death in Mississippi explosion are going forward here today. While arrangements are not yet complete, Byers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Byers, 1340 Mastic avenue, have announced [illegible] will be military in nature with interment either here or in the national cemetery in San Francisco.

Byers enlisted in the navy from this city just before the United States entered the World War. He was then but seventeen years of age. His close application to duty won him rapid promotion and at the time of his death he held the rank of boatswain's mate, first class. During the period of the war Byers was on duty with troop convoys and following the close of hostilities was a member of the crew of one of the United States mine sweepers in the North Sea He had resided in this city most of his life and was well known here. He was educated in the Lowell and Washington schools in this city.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Plans for administering the soldiers' bonus law are "going forward at full speed." Director Frank T. Hines of the United States veterans' bureau told President Coolidge today.

The President and Hines conferred on arrangements being made to use surplus moneys in the treasury to carry out the terms of the law until Congress appropriates funds.

Ford Cuts Office Staff Vacation For 5-Day Week

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

DETROIT, Mich., June 14.—Office employees and executives of the Ford Motor Company will go without their customary two weeks' vacation this year under an order that went into effect today.

About 23,000 men and women are affected.

Beginning today the Ford offices are to go on a five-day-a-week schedule.

For the next twelve weeks these Saturdays off for the office employees are to be in lieu of the summer vacation each has received in the past.

If the five-day week is continued in force after the end of twelve weeks the pay of the employee is to be cut in proportion, they are notified.

Six weeks ago the factory employees were put on a five-day basis. They have never been given vacations.

Henry Ford's view, as expressed by some of the executives, is that if the factory can accomplish all the required production in five days a week it should not take longer than that for the office personnel to supervise production.

BERKELEY POLICE ARREST FOUR MEN IN LIQUOR RAIDS

BERKELEY June 14 — In a series of four raids carried out last night, Sergeant of Police Frank Swain and a squad of police arrested and seized 7 arrested four alleged bootleggers and seized close to six hundred gallons of wine and small amounts of whiskey.

The arrests and searches were made on warrants issued by Judge Robert Edgar on complaints sworn to by C. C. Robbins, special investigator for the police department.

The four men are each charged with sale and possession of liquor and are held in the city jail in default of $1000 bail each.

Those under arrest are: John Fessaro, 2430 Grant street; James Ryan, 1507 Addison street; Pete Leone, 1325 Lincoln street; Joe Macagno, 929 Gilman street.

At the Leone place, police found a large copper still which was seized as evidence.

Major Gilbreth Dies While Phoning Wife

Major Frank B. Gilbreth, who was a world-famous industrial engineer and had many friends in the Bay district, dropped dead of heart trouble today while telephoning to his wife in a booth at the Lakawanna railroad station at Montclair, N. J.

Gilbreth was 56 years old. He was a major in command of army engineers a second to the general staff at Washington during the war.

His wife was Dr Lillian E. Moller of the University of California. Gilbreth is survived by 11 children. Both he and his wife attained prominence through their industrial inventions and their writings along technical and other lines.

Former Promoter to Hang for Murder

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Russell Scott, formerly of Detroit, where he had organized a million-dollar business that later failed, today was sentenced to hang for the murder of Joseph Maurer, 19-year-old clerk in a drug-store, who was shot when Scott and his brother held up the place.

Scott Wednesday pleaded guilty, and when the sentence was pronounced today his attorney hysterically begged permission to change the plea. He was referred to the state's attorney.

Whole Fleet to Join in Funeral Set for Tuesday

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SAN PEDRO, June 14.—Tuesday morning has been set for the funeral of the forty-eight who perished in the explosion aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi. The ceremonies, naval officials announced, will be simple, but impressive. Full naval honors will be accorded the victims.

San Pedro has signified its intention of attending the services almost as a unit. Business of all kinds will stop.

The services will be in charge of Captain B. F. Patrick, fleet chaplain, and an official detachment will be detailed from each vessel of the fleet. Hundreds of sailors will be granted shore leave in order that they may pay a final tribute to their dead comrades.

Naval authorities believe that relatives will request, in most cases, that the bodies be sent home for burial, but in many instances the interment will be placed in the hands of the navy. The navy burials, it is thought, [illegible] aside here or in the National cemetery at the Presidio at San Francisco.

HELEN WILLS TO PLAY IN BRITISH MATCH NEXT WEEK

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, June 14.—Only three members of the British team which meets the American women tennis stars in the international matches at Wimbledon next Wednesday and Thursday have been selected. They are Miss Kathleen McKane, Mrs. Geraldine R. Beamish and Mrs. R. C. Clayton, all of whom participated in the international team contest at Forest Hills last year.

The other two places on the British team are likely to be given to Joan Austin and Peggy Colyer, bobbed-hair young girls who jumped and volleyed their way into the finals of the doubles at Wimbledon last July to the surprise and delight of the spectators, all of whom referred to them as "the kids" or "the children."

It is likely that the two champions, Helen Wills of Berkeley, and Miss McKane will oppose as number ones of their respective sides. Mrs. Mallory taking number two positions in the singles.

There will be seven matches, five singles and two doubles in the Wimbledon competition. Mrs. George W. Wightman, captain of the American team will not play in the singles but will pair with Miss Wills in the doubles. The other American doubles will consist of Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup and Miss Eleanor Goss. The weather remain cool.

Too Much Work, Is Wife's Divorce Plea

Long hours at manual labor in all sorts of weather, are cited as cruelty by Julia Hornburg who today filed suit for divorce from Charles H Hornburg. She says her husband forced her to perform this labor despite the fact that he was well to do.

Hornburg was so penurious that he objected to paying $1 for having a tooth pulled from his wife's head although she was suffering greatly with tooth ache, she declares. He also complained that she was extravagant in her eating in that she used sugar in her coffee and butter on her bread.

COUNCIL BANS LAW TO PROHIBIT GAS PUMPS ON CURB

BERKELEY, June 14.—Overruling the recommendation of City Manager John N. Edy for the first time since he took office a year ago, the city council last night refused to pass an ordinance which would prohibit the maintenance by garages of gasoline pumps at the curb line.

The council's action was in accord with the sentiment of fifty garage owners who swarmed the council chambers last night in protest against the proposal to eliminate the gasoline pumps. Garage owners contended that the gasoline pumps were safer outside than inside of their properties, were no obstruction to traffic and were decidedly of more service to the public at the curb line than they would be inside.

The city manager had urged their removal on the ground that they were an obstruction to traffic.

After considerable discussion the matter was brought to a vote on the motion of Councilman S. C. May.

The council passed a resolution addressed to the State Railroad Commission asking approval of the East Bay Water Company's contract to supply $400,000 worth of additional water mains for fire protection in the city.

City Manager Edy reported to the council that Oakland and Piedmont were not co-operating with the Berkeley Contra Costa hills fire protection committee in patrolling the hills. He said that while Berkeley had subscribed $1500 for fire patrol, nothing has been done by either Oakland or Piedmont.

COOLIDGE GIVES SALARY INCREASE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Plans were made today to carry out the revision in salaries of 480,000 government employees in field service, the refunding of income tax payments made March 15, as provided in the new revenue law, and the increase of the coast guard for [illegible] running despite failure of Congress to pass appropriations bills carrying the funds.

The measure to raise the salaries of field service men was lost in the closing minutes of Congress. The President's action not only will permit increases authorized, but will prevent a cut of $20 a month in salaries which faced the government workers because of the failure of the bill.

President Coolidge issued the order after a conference with Chairman Madden of the House appropriations committee, and Director Lord of the budget. Lord pointed out that since it clearly was the intent of Congress that the salaries should be revised, as called for in the classification act of 1923, any extra appropriation necessary would be approved immediately upon the convening of Congress in December.

Under the order department heads were instructed to apportion their appropriations so as to cover the adjustment of the compensation of the civilian employes in the field service to correspond to their rates established for positions in the departmental service in the District of Columbia.

Field service employees whose salaries are specifically fixed by law will not receive the increase, but Director Lord said these cases are only one per cent of the total number.

The action solved another of the fiscal problems facing the administration as a result of the failure of two important appropriation bills. Administration of the bonus law was ordered yesterday by President Coolidge, who directed the Veterans' Bureau to set aside funds for this work until additional appropriations could be made in December.

Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau today informed the President "we are going at top speed with the bonus."

OVERSEAS LEAGUE GIVES BIG AID TO DISABLED NURSES

Testimonials From Women Patients in Hospital Spur Unit to Greater Work.

BY FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

Small numbers may presage great strength. The Eastbay cities chapter of the Women's Overseas Service League may be small but let their year's work concerning the disabled ex-service women speak for itself. Here is the total of cases contracted from May 1, 1923 to May 1, 1924, according to the audited statement in the hands of Mrs. G. H. Tubbles, president of the chapter.

Nineteen received medical care; eight received private hospitalization or nurses, clothing (new or cleaned and in good condition) was provided for 24 men and for 53 women. The League made ten loans the largest one for $300. There were 230 toilet articles and small necessities provided. Seventy-seven cases were assisted with claims (A. W. O. L. contact with Veterans' Bureau) and positions were found for eighteen. Added to these, assistance of any nature and when ever needed, was given to 412 disabled ex-service women.

PATIENTS' TESTIMONIALS.

Classified facts are undeniable but inspiration to carry on and knowledge of real results are gleaned from such returns as the following letters received at League headquarters. They are unsolicited letters from hospital patients who are disabled overseas women.

From St. Luke's hospital: "I want to thank you for the many kind things you have done for me through the members of the Women's Overseas League. Until I came to the hospital 'down and out,' I had never heard much about the good work done by the League but since I have been here I have seen evidence many times of the wisely efficient and gently effective help given to ex-service women through your League. You help where no other help is available and we have learned to rely on you in many ways. Some time I hope to be well again and able to help. Many are interested in the ex-service men but you have the big job in interesting people in helping the ex-service women. I want to tell everybody about the good work you are doing in a quiet friendly way."

Yours very sincerely,

BESSIE L. HILTON.

TOTALLY DISABLED.

The writer of the following statement has not walked for four years, is totally disabled and has a special nurse all the time.

"As a disabled overseas nurse and patient of the Veterans' Bureau, I am happy to state that I know of the good work being done by the A. W. O. L. It gives the disabled women confidence to know that the Overseas League is standing behind them in the difficult struggle toward health and rehabilitation."

THEA HOGUE, R. N.

St. Luke's Hospital, S. F.

A typical case which came in today said Mrs. Eugene K. Sturgis, chairman of the local A. W. O. L. committee is that of Miss M.— This nurse enlisted on June 14th, 1898, and served in base hospital 102 in Genoa, Italy, until she fell ill on Nov. 9, 1898 having influenza and possible complications. This condition was followed by active tuberculosis and on March 26, 1909 she was brought home from overseas a stretcher case.

She was kept in a Debarkation hospital in Virginia until her honorable discharge on Nov. 14, 1909, during which time she was operated upon. In fact there were two operations involved. Upon her discharge she was receiving compensation ($80) for tuberculosis in both lungs. After several months she became worse and was sent by the government into a sanitarium for a time, when she left with the tuberculosis in a quiet state.

Coming to Los Angeles she nursed part of the time until she was stricken with a malady which she was unable to trace to service as there was no record of the previous operation anywhere in her file. In the meantime her compensation had been cut to $20 per month and she was unable to work.

CARED FOR BY LEAGUE.

The League found her at this point, in St. Luke's hospital and had the good fortune to obtain for her a speedy diagnosis, an operation and two special nurses for a matter of two weeks. Her condition now is improved but she will be unable to work for some time and she has had no success in appealing her case to get a living compensation from the government."

Miss M.— is very anxious to go to work at once but of course her physician will not allow it. She has an insurance policy which she has carried for years upon which she owes $300 and interest borrowed during her five years' illness. Besides this she had to borrow $125 last December to pay the semi-annual insurance fee and has another $125 payment due in July.

MOTHER IS BENEFICIARY.

Now when she does go to work it will probably be for part time only at first, and she must live aside from meeting all these expenses and debts. She dares not allow the insurance to lapse owing to her state of health and the fact that a poor and needy mother, back in Nebraska is the beneficiary.

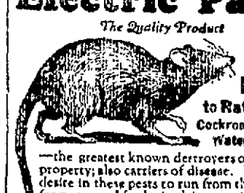

Today this little letter comes from Miss M.— in a local hospital:

"The kindly interest and untiring effort in my behalf, by the American Women's Overseas League, have been a great source of encouragement to me during my illness in the hospital. I have every reason to know that they are doing a wonderful work for ex-service women."

(Signed) Miss W. E. M.

Of course the A. W. O. L. will step in and render individual assistance to this girl who will be a citizen such as America needs badly and should protect well.

British Labor's Failure Cited in Sunday Tribune

WHAT is a Labor Government? Have the people any basis for the belief that under its regime strikes and other industrial woes that rack a nation will cease?

No, answers A. G. Gardiner, Britain's greatest liberal editor, in an exclusive dispatch to the Sunday TRIBUNE. He reports, after an economic survey, that labor conditions have gone from bad to worse since the advent of Premier MacDonald. Tramless London has just had another week of walking during torrential rains, and the public is in ugly mood as result of the street car strike.

Herriot, the probable new French premier, is going to London to confer with MacDonald on the Dawes reparations program. William Bird, in an exclusive cablegram from Paris, says Herriot will insist on the restoration of the Allied Commission in the Ruhr in return for the withdrawal of the French troops. Bird also forecasts that Herriot's premiership will last about one week.

Maximilian Harden, Germany's foremost publicist, writes in the Sunday TRIBUNE that Teutonic morals are at a low ebb. He warns the world to beware of deception in Germany's apparent acceptance of the Dawes program.

1500 CLUBWOMEN ARE EXPECTED TO VISIT BAY CITIES

BY EDNA B. KINARD, Club Editor The TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES June 14.— Some 1500 clubwomen who attended the Federation of Womens' clubs are expected to visit in the San Francisco bay cities over the week end. En route they will be entertained at the Big Trees, Carmel, Monterey, Santa Clara county, San Francisco and Oakland.

Elaborate preparations everywhere are being made for the reception of the official parties. Particular interest is being manifested in the hospitality which has been announced by Alameda district clubwomen. A brilliant luncheon at Hotel Oakland will be featured with complimentary automobile rides over the Skyline to Piedmont and Berkeley, with tea at Mills College, Ebell and Twentieth Century clubhouses.

Mrs. L. F. Helmond is chairman of the general committee on arrangements. Mrs. Elon L. Warner, Oakland, Alameda district president, left the convention Friday morning that she might hurry home to assist in perfecting plans. San Francisco clubwomen have planned similar entertainment for Monday, adding the attraction of a tour of Chinatown.

3 Pay-Car Bandits Foiled by Speeding

By "stepping on the gas" when three pay-car bandits ordered him to stop, E. J. Angeli, paymaster for the Star Motor company, foiled an attempted hold-up today at East Twelfth street and Twenty-third avenue, and escaped with several thousands of dollars, he reported to the police.

An automobile containing three young men, all armed, drove up beside the pay car, and one of the three ordered him to stop and hold up his hands. Angeli, instead, speeded up the pay car, and drove away from them.

CO-OPERATION OF BAY CITIES URGED AT C. OF C. MEET

Further Outside Capital, Proper Marketing System Needed, Delegates Told.

RICHMOND, June 14.— Cooperation on the part of all the cities and towns in the San Francisco bay district is essential to the success of this district, Dr. B. M. Rastall, director of California Incorporated, told the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa county last night at St Edmund's hall in Richmond.

Central California in general, and the Eastbay section in particular is on the verge of an extraordinary era of sound, constructive and permanent industrial development, the doctor said, but in order to realize the most good from this development there must be perfect harmony between the several localities in this section. The Associated Chambers of Commerce, in the opinion of the speaker, would helps about the required cooperation and harmony.

An increase in population and more outside capital are also needed, Rastall declared. Dealing with the necessity of proper marketing, Rastall said: "The community that is consistently developing its advantages and maintaining an efficient marketing system to sell its opportunities to prospective settlers is the one that is destined to realize big things," declared Rastall.

The work that has been realized by Californias Inc. during the two years that it has been in operation was reviewed by the speaker.

Roy Davis, president of the association, delivered a brief talk in which he declared the Chambers of Commerce through their association are cooperating and harmonizing the several communities, he stated that petty jealousies are disappearing and that this entire section of the state is now working as a unit for the betterment of the state as a whole.

Scouts from Berkeley, Oakland, San Francisco and Antioch are expected to visit Richmond Pyramid, No. 43, tonight when a meeting is held at the Scout's hall, Twelfth and Nevin streets.

Albert R. McGinty, reported to the Richmond police as missing from his home, is safe at Reno, Nevada, and will return to Richmond at once, it was announced at police headquarters today.

OAKLAND'S CASE ON DIFFERENTIAL RATES UP JUNE 19

Chamber of Commerce Attorney Leaves for Washington to Present Case.

E. W. Hollingsworth, attorney for the traffic department of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, left for Washington, D. C., last night to attend the oral hearing scheduled for June 19, when the Oakland differential case comes before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Oakland differential case is a complaint by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Southern Pacific company, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway company, the Western Pacific railroad company, the Sacramento Northern railroad and the Central California Traction company, alleging discrimination by the carriers against Oakland in that they publish the same rates between San Francisco and points as far north as the California-Oregon line and east to the California-Nevada line, as they do between Oakland and the same points, yet the service between Oakland and these points is considerably less, both in actual service and cost thereof.

While the examiner's report was unfavorable, and recommended that the complaint be dismissed, the traffic committee is of the opinion that the examiner's position is not well taken; that he laid great stress on unfavorable points, and failed to bring out those points which should be considered in Oakland's favor. Consequently exceptions to the examiner's report have been prepared and will be presented by Hollingsworth at the hearing. The traffic department has every reason to believe that this case will yet reach a successful and favorable conclusion.

Naval Reservists to Sail for Alaska

SEATTLE, June 14—One hundred and twenty naval reservists of Seattle and vicinity were to sail today for Alaska on Eagle boats 57 and 72 for a two weeks' trip. Stops will be made at Ketchikan, Wrangell, Skagway and Sitka.

COMBINED EFFORT OF BAY DISTRICT URGED ON ROTARY

Co-operation of Cities and Towns Means Prosperity, Says Speaker.

RICHMOND, June 14.—Combined effort on the part of the cities and towns of the bay district must be secured before this section of more than 1,000,000 persons can come into its own, Robert N. Lynch vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, told Richmond Rotarians at the club luncheon.

"We must not be small-towners," the speaker said, as he called attention to former divided effort on the part of the several chambers of commerce. He urged that, in making plans for the betterment of industrial and commercial conditions, all of the cities and towns work as a unit.

There is an industrial boom beckoning the San Francisco bay district, he said, but united effort on the part of all concerned is needed to make it a reality.

The entire theme of his address was one of co-operation and "pulling together." He severely criticised the individual activities which he termed 'small towners."

Henry C. Johnson, the newly-appointed chief of the fire department, was introduced and told of his plans. He said he proposes to hold promotion examinations within a month. Fire prevention is his chief interested, he said.

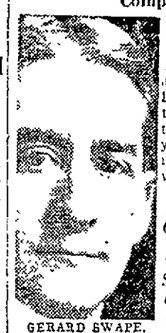

Banker of Rodeo to Run For Assembly

MARTINEZ, June 14—T. J. O'Leary, attorney and Contra Costa banker, whose home is in Rodeo, today announced his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for assemblyman from this district.

O'Leary has been organizer of four banks and the Crockett Investment company, and was one of the leading factors in organizing the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry company.

BOY WITH PISTOL SCARES BANDIT

Two robberies and an attempted holdup were reported to the police last night. In the attempted holdup, the bandit was frightened away when the 6-year-old son of Joe Pennuchi, 887 Twenty-eight sreet, came running to his father with the latter's revolver. The bandit, who was holding Pennuchi at the end of his revolver, fled when he saw the boy and the other weapon, according to the police report.

Mrs. Lydia Roberts, 2740 East Sixteenth street, reported last night that on returning home late she discovered a masked and armed bandit in a rear bedroom of her home. She screamed, and the man jumped from a window and escaped. The burglar had taken $5 from a purse left in the house.

Joseph Moserop, 3243 Foothill boulevard, reported to the police this morning that burglars had entered his barber shop during the night and had taken $200 worth of tools, equipment and toilet specialties.

The daily test

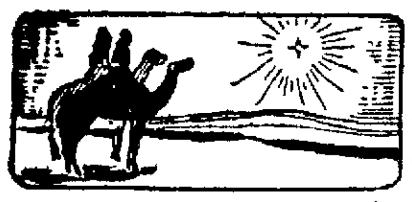

SUPPOSE you tested everything before buying . . . held it under searching light, examined it, turned it critically over and over. Not then could you feel so sure of it as of advertised goods you have never seen.

Wares advertised have already been tested. They have proved their worth under publicity that would have illumined defects. Thousands of buyers have tried them before you—and been satisfied. Without this satisfaction, they couldn't continue to be advertised goods.

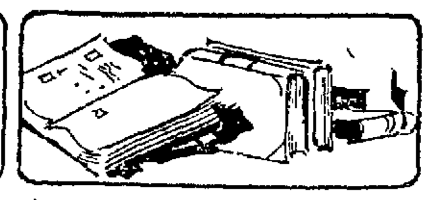

That thousand-fold testing goes on each day. Advertisers invite it. They believe in their wares, and prove their wares justify belief by advertising to you daily.

Read the advertisements to know of the best—to protect yourself against unwise buying.

Advertised goods stand the test of economy—they cost less in the end

EASTBAY CHURCH NEWS

Questions of Day Will Be Discussed

At the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening, Dr. Frank M. Silsley will speak on the subject, "Christian Knights in These Perilous Times." In this sermon he will take up these questions "Would Christian Knighthood prevent the occurrence of the Piedmont moral horror? Would Christian Knighthood save us from the beast of false doctrine? Would Christian Knighthood have saved Peter Clark Macfarlane from melancholia? Does Christian Knighthood manifest temper against the destruction of Christian standards of unbelief. Is it a monstrous suggestion that Dr. Fosdick subscribe to the Confession of Faith? Should there be a protest against the jingoistic spirit that would plunge us into another war? Will Christian Knighthood permit "Fatty" Arbuckle to return to the stage without a protest? Why was Coolidge the hero of the recent convention and Senator Lodge in a back seat?

Before the sermon, Dr. Silsley will give a brief Town Talk discussion on the moral of the California beauty contest.

The Fountain Lodge and the Fruitvale Lodge I. O. O. F. will be the guests of honor at this service. The Temple quartet under the direction of Walter B. Kennedy will give a varied program of music, the features of which will be the anthem, "Rejoice in the Lord, O Ye Righteous," by F. F. Harker, for quartet with soprano solo, and "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod, sung by Mrs. Mary Groom-Richards, contralto. The organ recital by Mr. Kennedy at the close of the service will be in honor of the guests of the evening.

At the morning service, Dr Silsley has for his subject, "The Christian Idealist."

Last Sunday morning was a red-letter day at First church, it being Communion and so large a congregation was present that chairs had to be brought into the auditorium. One hundred new members were received at this time.

Masons Will Hear Pastor At Plymouth

Plymouth Lodge of Masons will worship at Plymouth church tomorrow morning. The lodge was organized at Plymouth Center and the ties between church an dlodge are very friendly. Masonic brothers of all lodges are cordially invited to this service.

The subject of the morning sermon by the pastor, Re. H. S. McCready, will be "Masonic Geometry." The musical numbers will be a solo by Miss Dorothy Buechner, soprano, "I Will Lay Me Down in Peace," by Buck, and a duet by Merville Yetter and Lowell Redfield, tenor and baritone, "Remember Now Thy Creater," by Holden.

The motion picture in the evening features the eminent Shakespearean actor, Fredick Warde, in "Silas Marner." He is supported by an excellent cast and the film follows very closely the novel by George Eliot. A feature of the evening will be congregational singing of hymns from the screen.

A letter of credit for $4000 has been cabled from the New York office of the National Lutheran council to the Bible societies in Germany to assist in the distribution of New Testaments and Gospels. The Bible societies have suffered losses through the economic strain of the present period. The demand for Bibles, New Testaments, and gospels has increased in Germany far beyond the supply.

Daily Vacation Bible School to Convene Monday

The opening session of the Daily Vacation Bible school of the First M. E. church is to be held next Monday morning at 9 30 o'clock. "Surprise refreshments" are to be served to each boy and girl who attends the first day. Picnics will form an attractive feature of the school. The term is to be four weeks in duration. All the boys and girls between the ages of 4 and 15, irrespective of religious affiliations, will be given a hearty welcome.

This year the management has been able to secure the finest of text books. Some new and unusual features have been added to the craft department. Sewing, cooking, basketry and art work in painting and polychrome will be offered for the girls. For the boys there will be metal work, wood work and basketry. Each day an important part of the program will be interesting Bible and character stories; attractive music; dramatization and recreation.

A large force of teachers, thirty in number, has been secured to direct the activities. The principal of the school is to be Rev. Lloyd J. B. Taber, director of Religious Education. Mr. Taber will also act as superintendent of the Junior department. The Intermediate department will be in charge of Miss Anna Smith while the Primary department will be under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Burroughs.

DR. SIMONDS TO PREACH ABOUT 'CITY OF PEACE'

Scientists of Niles to Meet In New Church

CHRISTIAN Scientists of Niles will hold opening services in their new church building on Second street, next to the grammar school, tomorrow at 11 a. m., 3 and 8 p. m.

About eight years ago, the first Christian Science meetings of Niles were held in a private home. The attendance grew rapidly and it became necessary to meet in Odd Fellows' Hall.

In time these meetings were also so well attended that it was decided to build since no other quarters were available and it was impossible to hold Wednesday meetings in Odd Fellows' Hall.

A lot 50x100 feet was purchased and a church seating 250 was built at a total cost of about $6000. The lot is entirely paid for and the church will be cleared in a short time.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S NEW OFFICERS TAKE CHARGE

Recently elected officers of the Young People's Society will have charge of the 6:30 meeting tomorrow night at the Emmanuel Swedish M. E. church. William Alstrand will be the speaker.

The Sunday school is preparing a special program to be given Sunday, June 22, Martin Blomstad being the director.

An English service will be held tomorrow night when the pastor will preach on "Zaccheus and the Fool." The church choir directed by Mrs. W. W. Sandholt, will sing a gospel hymn. At the Swedish service in hte morning, Dr Lind will speak on the much neglected subject, "The Peacemaker and His Reward."

Allendale Baptists Will Open School

In the observance of "Fathers' Day" tomorrow morning at the First Christian church, grand avenue and Webster street, Dr. Harvey O. Breeden will speak on "The Ideal Father." Paul Denton, tenor, will render the solo, "Like as the Heart Desireth."

The question box for the evening service contains these questions to be answered by Dr. Breeden: Christian Science—Is it either Christian or scientific? If not, why not? Who is responsible for the career of Cecilia Cooney, the New York girl bandit? What is the unpardonable sin?

Following this the children of the Sunday school will give a 40 minute program consisting of recitations, "My Doggie," by Lily Pearl Borrell; "Do you vote?" Mildred Blackwelder; "Two Boxes," Arthrelda Pickering; special exercises by the girls and boys of the Junior department.

At the regular Sunday school session at 9:30, a special feature will be a number entitled, "What Makes Our Country Great?" by Ernest Blackwelder and four other boys, Orville Burdick, Fred Lothrop, John Bickel and Harland Williams.

The regular Fellowship dinner at 6:30 Wednesday evening, will be followed by a devotional service, in which Dr. Breeden will give "An Interpretation of the Book of Acts." An educational film will be shown at 8:15.

Is This the Way to Heaven?

This question by a poor child in one of the first Sunday Schools in 1792 was answered in the affirmative.

Many a child, and adult, too, has found that regular church and Sunday School attendance opens to them the gates of Heaven.

In every nation upon earth people call upon some kind of a god, but only the Christian comes to the Father, for without Jesus there is no other way to Him.

Sunday evening at 7:45 the pastor will continue the series "Jesus the Only Way."

by Dr. John Snape

"The X-ray has been found to be valuable in dentistry in chemistry, in surgery, and even in psychology. In the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis all cadets are now carefully graded on the revelations of an X-ray photograph. . . . . The eyes of God are the X-rays of the Universe, what they see they photograph. Some day we shall be invited to look over the pictures of our whole life. It is a solemn thing to know that God sees us. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God. It is a more fearful thing not to fall into His hands."

Children to Give Drama As Program

Children's Day will be observed at the First Congregational church at the morning service tomorrow. The choir will sing special music, and a Children's Day program will be presented by the young people of the Church School, under the leadership of Miss Ada Rose Demerest.

The program is entitled "Life and the Church School," and represents, in dramatic form, the challenge of Life to the Church School and the answer of the school. The part of Life is taken by Miss Orielle Murphy, and the part of the Church School, by Miss Marion Holcomb. Miss Midren Randolph will act as pianist. Others who will take part on the program are: Miss Dorothea Carich, Miss Dorothy Frickstad, Miss Barbara Leet, Miss Barbara Fuller, Philip Amborn, Merwyn Peacock, Miss Grace Wolfe, and Miss Dorothy Andrews. The program will aim to present the work of the Church School during the past year, and will be held at 11 a. m. in Temple Sinai, Twenty-eighth and Webster streets.

The Church School will meet, as usual at 9:45 a. m., in the First Unitarian church, Fourteenth and Castro streets, and bus service will be provided to take all of the pupils to attend the Children's Day service in Temple Sinai.

There will be no evening service during the summer months.

DR. DYSINGER TO PREACH ABOUT "THE TRINITY"

At the First English Lutheran church, tomorrow morning, Rev. W. S. Dysinger will preach on the theme "The Trinity." In the church year, this is Trinity Sunday. And in connection with the observance of that day, the pastor will discuss this doctrine of the church, which is so often before the minds of religious people. Why does the church hold fast to this ancient doctrine? Has the progress of world thought outgrown it? Is it indeed a Bible teaching? These questions will be answered by the pastor.

The evening sermon will be the third in the story of the "Life of Paul." The theme will be "Paul's Early Missionary Travels." These sermons are following the "Life of Paul" by Stalker. And the pastor has requested that attendance at the services be preceded by a reading of that book.

Holy Spirit Gift Is Pulpit Subject

"The Gift of the Holy Spirit. What Is It?" will be the subject of the sermon tomorrow morning at Elmhurst Christian church, Eighty-eighth avenue and East Fourteenth street. The Rev. L. C. Hautman is supplying following the recent resignation of Rev. R. L. McHatton, who had been pastor of the church for the past two years. The evening sermon topic will be "The Mission and Witness of the Holy Spirit."

Church School Prepares For Big Exposition

An international exposition will be staged at the close of the Vacation school period at Plymouth church, it is announced by Ferd B. Morrow, principal of the school which opens next Monday morning at 9:15 a. m.

Throughout the months of the school teams representing various nations will be preparing exhibits and stunts characteristic of peoples in all parts of the world showing their daily life, religious customs, achievements in art, literature and statecraft.

Daily at 9:15 there will begin a regular program of music, workshop, stories and handiwork. Each week a different club will be formed. Among other attractions there will be courses in first aid and nursing to be given under the direction of a physician and a graduate nurse. Mrs. Harriet Kellogg, the author of a nature-study book entitled "Sea People and other Nature Folk" will bring her remarkable exhibit and talk on that subject to the boys and girls.

Principal Morrow announces that the first hundred children of ages between 6 and 13 who appear on or before Monday morning, June 16, will be admitted, regardless of religious or racial tendencies.

A Thought for Today

By The Rev. Kenneth Owens

"They hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai."

—Esther, vii, 10.

Many a man has built himself
A gallows in his breast
Where he might hang some enemy
To quiet his unrest.

And just as sure as darkness follows
Hard upon the day,
He hangs himself upon the gallows
In some mysterious way.

No enmity will bring to man
The ripened fruit of trust,
And only kindness lifts a man
Resplendent from the dust.

One of the most discussed plays of the theatrical season in New York has been "Outward Bound." It is a drama of the future life. The passengers consist of a drunkard, minister, capitalist, parasitical snob, scrub woman and two persons involved in a marriage triangle. Much to their surprise they find heaven and hell to be the same place. It is a most gripping interpretation of the future life.

CHURCH and FRATERNAL NEWS

Pastor, 80, Is Honored By Church

The reception Wednesday evening in honor of the Eightieth birthday of Rev. Charles W. Wendte, D. D., was an event that will long be remembered in the annals of the history of the First Unitarian church of Oakland. Wendte Hall was filled with a representative audience of the friends of Dr. Wendte who live in the cities about the bay. They were received by Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Wendte, Miss Wendte of Boston, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Reed.

Dr. George C. Pardee expressed the appreciation of the community on the account of the influence of Dr. Wendte as a citizen during his residence in Oakland from 1886 to 1895 through the organization of the Associated Charities and his active interest in all movements for social betterment.

After being presented with the book containing letters [illegible] of his friends, Dr. Wendte expressed his heartfelt gratitude for the sentiments of the letters and speeches. He spoke of varied interesting experiences in his long life. He said that one secret of a long life is to be interested in some movement that is designed to uplift mankind, and related incidents from his associations with the anti-slavery, woman's suffrage, prohibition, and world peace movements, as well as with the International Federation of Religious Liberals.

At the close of his speech, a large cake on which were eighty lighted candles was brought forward. The many friends departed wishing Dr. Wendte many happy returns of the day.

CHURCH TO HAVE NIGHT MEETING FOR MEN, BOYS

There will be a meeting especially for men and boys at the United Presbyterian church, College and Harwood avenues tomorrow evening at 7:30. A boys' choir will lead in the singing and will have a special place on the program. The pastor, Leland M. Miller, will speak on the topic, "Jesus the Real Man."

In the morning the sermon will center around the subject, "Calling on the Memory."

Last Monday evening a Boy Scout troop was organized at the church for the benefit of the boys of the community. A number of boys and parents were present, and A. S. Burrill, Field Scout executive, led in the activities of the evening, introducing [illegible] scoutmaster, Dan Blade, who has had experience in the work. The new troops is to be called Troop 81. An effort is being made among the boys to secure the full membership allowed by scout authorities. The troops committee consists of W. D. Ord, chairman; Messrs. J. H. Harris, A. C. McDonald, L. M. Miller, G. J. Over.

The picnic for the Bible school and church is being held today at Dimond park, with an enthusastic crowd in attendance.

Oakland Tent Wins Inter-Lodge Match

Carpet ball and quoits were the entertainment features for the evening at the meeting of Oakland Tent No. 17, The Maccabees, last Monday.

The following were the winners: In the carpet ball game—Hilton, first; Meyers, second; Anastasakes, third; Eish, fourth. Quoits—Decker, first; Fletcher, second; and Leese, third. Oakland Tent won the second game of quoits from Argonaut Tent No. 33, the score being 24 to 10.

Next Monday evening there will be whist and pedro for members only.

The First Congregational church will conduct its fifth annual Vacation School in the building of the [illegible] community and Castro streets, beginning Monday, June 16. Sessions will be held from Monday to Friday of each week for four weeks between the hours of 9:15 and 12 noon.

The work will be carried on by departments: Primary, junior, intermediate boys and intermediate girls. The daily program will include Bible stories, hero stories, worship period, memory drill, woodwork, basketry, sewing, music, patriotism and so forth, all under competent leadership.

A splendid corps of trained teachers has been engaged. Department superintendents are as follows: Primary, Mrs. M. P. Ziegenfuss; assistant, Miss Dorothy Andrews; junior, Miss Evelyn Green; assistants, Miss Marion Holcomb, Miss Virginia Baxley; intermediate girls, Mrs. Faith Van Horn Knox; intermediate boys, R. C. Wadell; basketry, Miss Gladys Lenson.

Mr. Waddell, the director of Religious Education, will act as principal of the school. No charge is made for the privileges of the school, which is open to all boys and girls of the community. Special features of the session will be stereopticon pictures from time to time, a school picnic, and a closing entertainment on Friday evening, July 11.

The work in various lines will be closely correlated this year under the careful supervision of the superintendents and the endeavor will be made to make each daily program a unit in its self. The program of each week will center around the following themes: First week, the home; second week, the community; third week, the nation; fourth week, the world.

DR. GUILD TO CONFER ABOUT PAID SECRETARY

Dr. Roy B. Guild, secretary of the Federation of Churches of Christ in America, will meet with the board of the Oakland Church Council next Wednesday, June 18, for the purpose of formulating plans for the establishment of a paid secretary of the Federation of Churches in Oakland. On July 1, a dinner will be held when final plans for the campaign will be gone over.

During the past six months Dr. Guild, whose headquarters is New York, conducted a campaign in San Francisco where a secretary of the Federation of Churches has been named.

School of Insight Opens in Berkeley

"Insight—the Power of a Free Successful and Inspired Life," will be the subject of the group of lectures to be completed tomorrow evening by Edgcumb Pinchon, English lecturer, at the Town and Gown club, Berkeley. These lectures mark the opening of the special summer sessions of the School of Insight, of which Pinchon is founder and which he will conduct for six weeks at the Villa Narcissus, 2903 Russell street, beginning next Monday.

Enforcement Of Dry Law Is Theme

Two services of special interest will be conducted at the First United Brethren church, corner of Thirty-fourth and Adeline streets tomorrow. The pastor, Milton C. Lutz, will deliver the address at both services.

At 11 a. m. he will use as his subject, "The Adventure of Prohibition."

In the evening at 7:30 the pastor will use as his subject, "The World's Greatest Constitution of Service," as based upon the twelfth chapter of Romans. The pastor will answer the question why more men are now studying this particular portion of the Bible more than any other subject contained therein. Special music will be rendered by "The Stars and Stripes Band."

This is the last service the pastor will conduct until after his return from Salt Lake City, Utah. Congregational speakers will fill the pulpit during his absence.

EXPERIENCE IS ESSENTIAL TO RELIGIOUS LIFE

At the Brooklyn Presbyterian church tomorrow morning Dr. R. E. Cooper will speak on the subject, "The Heart Aflame," and the evening subject, "A Warm Hand-Grasp."

In the morning subject he will show that a first hand religious experience is essential to the religious life. That does not mean that religion consists alone in feeling, for it does not and cannot. God cannot use to good advantage "sanctified stupidity." Nor can He use to the best advantage unconsecrated intellectuality. Intellectual understanding and consecrated devotion are both essential to the really religious life," the pastor says.

Park Boulevard Choir Provides Entertainment

An interesting entertainment was given last Tuesday evening in the church hall of the Park Boulevard Presbyterian church, by the Park Boulevard choir, assisted by several Eastbay entertainers.

The program opened with a group of songs which were popular in the days of our grandmothers more than fifty years ago and sung by William Augustus Benjamin with much artistic expression. The last number, the characteristic old "Grandfather's Clock" was sung with especially fine effect.

The outstanding feature of the concert, however, was the work of the Park Boulevard choir. This young body of singers, under the direction of W. A. Benjamin, is steadily coming to the fore as one of the artistic singing organizations of Oakland.

Mrs. W. D. Ogilvie and Mrs. Eva B. Brand, the accompanists of the evening, added much to the artistic quality of the entertainment.

DR. CLECAK IS HEARD AT NATIVE SONS LUNCHEON

Dr. Nicholas J. Clecak of the West Oakland Roosters' Club was the speaker at the last weekly luncheon of the Native Sons Lunch Club, held Tuesday noon at a down-town restaurant. Dr. Clecak was introduced by Frank C. Merritt, president of the club, and a large number of local Native Sons were present to listen to an interesting talk on the present condition of the sewer terminals along the western waterfront.

According to Nicholas J. Meinert, secretary of the club, the club is outgrowing its present meeting place.

Spending of Million to Be Outlined

"What should a man do who sincerely and honestly wanted to follow the letter and spirit of the teachings of Jesus, if he were placed as I am, in possession of a million dollars which I do not want to keep?" is the question which Arthur Nash has asked through various religious papers. Bernard C. Ruggles, who is personally acquainted with Nash has drafted a letter to him as an answer to his question.

This letter will be the basis of his Sunday morning sermon at the Church of the Universal Christ in the Rose Room of Hotel Oakland. His subject will be, "How to Spend a Million Dollars." Various people in the congregation have given their ideas upon the subject and Ruggles will quote from them in the course of his address.

On next Tuesday evening the Universal Comrades will observe Ladies' Night and the wives and friends of the men of the club will be guests. Mrs. Esther Schneider, executive secretary of the Camp Fire Girls, will be the speaker and special guest of honor. The dinner will be held at 7 o'clock at the Vauban Cafe.

Piedmont Parlor Elects Officers For Coming Year

At the election of officers for the ensuing term of Piedmont Parlor No. 120, N. S. G. W., Judge Lincoln S. Church was elected second vice-president. The following officers were elected: Sr. past president, Fred M. Mueller; Jr. past president, Nicholas J. Meinert; president, J. DRY GOODS

NEW YORK, June 14—Cotton goods markets were dull today with prices steady. Yarns were in slightly better inquiry without any increased sales. Woolens were lower. More raw silk was being bought on a slight advance. Jute goods remained steady. Jobbers report a quiet week.

WOOL

BOSTON, June 14.—The wool market in general is about the same. Sales are practically all confined to small lots, and are well distributed among the various lines. The export of foreign wools continues in small volume. One boat clearing recently carried about 51,000 pounds of New Zealand combing wool consigned to Liverpool. However, most export shipments are in small amounts.

Summer Supply Of Lamb Ahead Of Last Season

CHICAGO, June 14—The number of lambs in the areas that furnish the bulk of the market supply during July and August is larger than last year, according to a statement of tthee United States department of agriculture. Range and pasture conditions early in June, however, were such that there is considerable uncertainty as to whether there will be normal market movement during this period.

If the conditions improve to near the average by July 1 the market movement in July and August will probably be somewhat larger than last year. If they continue poor throughout the summer the market movement during these months will be smaller.

The supply of westerns during July and August comes largely from the three far northwestern states, Idaho furnishing over one-half of the total with Oregon and Washington next in importance. In these states the total number of early lambs was larger than last year and conditions of growth to the middle of April were favorable.

In California there has been no improvement in the drought areas and the situation there is serious. It is estimated that there are nearly 200,000 head of sheep and lambs not fit for slaughter for which there is no feed in sight and which cannot be shipped out of the state because of the quarantine.

Crude Oil Prices Are Again Cut

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 14.—The Joseph Seep agency, buyers of crude oil for Standard Oil company, today announced a decrease of from 10 cents to 50 cents a barrel on almost all grades.

The new prices are:

SUPPLY OF GOOD GRADE STEERS IS BECOMING SHORT

Calf Prices Down; Hog Market Steady; Lamb Demand Continues Fair.

The week's trading on livestock has featured liberal supplies of all lower grades with the most strength shown on good grades, while general lack of rain and drinking water for livestock are underlying factors in the livestock situation, according to the State Division of Markets reports.

Most concerns expressed a desire for good grade cattle of which the supply is limited and tending shorter as the summer goes on. However, coupled with a superabundance of medium and common grades the market for the week is only steady with a decidedly draggy undertone at the close. The bulk of the supply came from California although several loads of cake fed cattle came from packers' ranches in Nevada, which showed a white covering as contrasted with the yellowish covering of most grass arrivals. Numerous loads of best grass steers figured around $7.50-$7.75 off the cars and consisted of only fairly well covered bullocks averaging around 1050-1100 lbs., and a uniform load of dehorned grass steers were estimated at $8 but outside these few shipments the bulk of the material was made up of steers weighing under 1000 lbs., and hardly good enough for the best retail demand. These latter kinds were in plentiful supply with practically no cash outlay as packers' ranches furnished them; others came on commission and a two load shipment scored $7. There was plenty available and numerous loads were turned away. The supply of these kinds was further augmented by bruised arrivals under the 48 hour "kill-out" ruling. Under light receipts cows experienced a slow and draggy market throughout the week, principally on account of the abundance of low grade steers. A few loads of good 950-1000 lb. cows brought $5-$5.25, but the bulk were from killers' ranches: the drought stricken area and shortage of feed districts. Off grade cows were turned away by most concerns and were practically unsalable because direct shipments were liberal. Bulls were steady with a few odd head in regular shipments costing $3 on the light order.

CALVES AND HOGS.

The calf market has been an up and down affair for the month, this week being the "down" week and when compared to last week arrivals have been liberal. A week ago supplies were light and this week liberal which caused a mean close. Several loads of good under 200 lb calves brought $7.50 with those averaging up to 250 lbs. at $7, while those operators owning their own supply were seemingly anxious to move their material into consumptive channels. A mixed shipment of 300 lb. calves brought $5.

The hog market continued steady with the bulk of the hard grain fed Californias costing around $8.50-$8.75, with several loads direct from packers' ranches. Shipments of strong weight pigs averaging from 122-127 lbs. brought $7.75, while medium weight butchers moved mostly around $7.75-$8.25. A six car string of Idahos and numerous loads of Nebraska and Colorado hogs were included in the week's arrivals. The latter figuring around $8.60-$8.75 off cars.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

When compared to last week the lamb market is steady with liberal offerings of lambs which are a little too heavy in weight for this market. The lamb deal continues to develop a firmness on good to choice 62-67 lb. lambs for this city and a plentitude of 72-78 lb. kinds which are costing $10-$10.50. Quality of lambs has held up pretty well and no fox tail shipments were noted during the week. A few shipments of medium 57-62 lb. lambs scored $9.50-$10, and common 52-55 lb lambs brought $8-$8.50. About 262 cars of dressed lambs or 170,000 head have been forwarded to eastern markets outside the state during the period April 1 to June 7. A few loads of 90-100 lb. yearlings brought $6-$6.50, and aged wethers $4.50 as did several single car shipments of 110-115 lb. shorn ewes. In general mutton is slow and draggy and only those concerns with "car routes" can make much use of this material since city retailers prefer lamb carcasses.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Severe heat southwest likely to cause crop damage led to an early advance in wheat prices today. It was reported that the bulk of wheat crop in the big producing region of Kansas and to a less extent in Western Oklahoma was either in the milk or the dough stage of development. It was contended that there therefor the crop throughout the region referred to was particularly susceptible to shrinkage and blight. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼ to ¾c higher, with July $1.12⅝ to $1.11½ and September $1.13⅜ to $1.13½, were followed by a material further advance.

Corn and oats were firmer, owing more or less to the wheat advance. After opening unchanged to ½c up, July 81 to 81¼c, the corn market scored slight further gains.

Oats started at ¼@⅛c to ½c higher, July 47½c, and later went up a little more.

THREE JAPANESE SHIPS RUSH HERE WITH THOUSANDS

Tokyo Government Changes Sailing Dates to Enable Boats to Haul Hordes.

By E. R. FOGER.

Special by radio to The TRIBUNE and The Chicago Daily News.

TOKYO, June 14.—The government Japanese steamship companies are cooperating to insure the transportation of emigrants wishing to reach Honolulu before the new immigration law of the United States becomes effective on July 1. Three vessels, the Persia Maru, the Korea Maru and the Kokohama Maru, left Yokohama yesterday, carrying almost one thousand emigrants, a large portion of them being Japanese who returned to their former homes in Japan, either on visits or to secure brides.

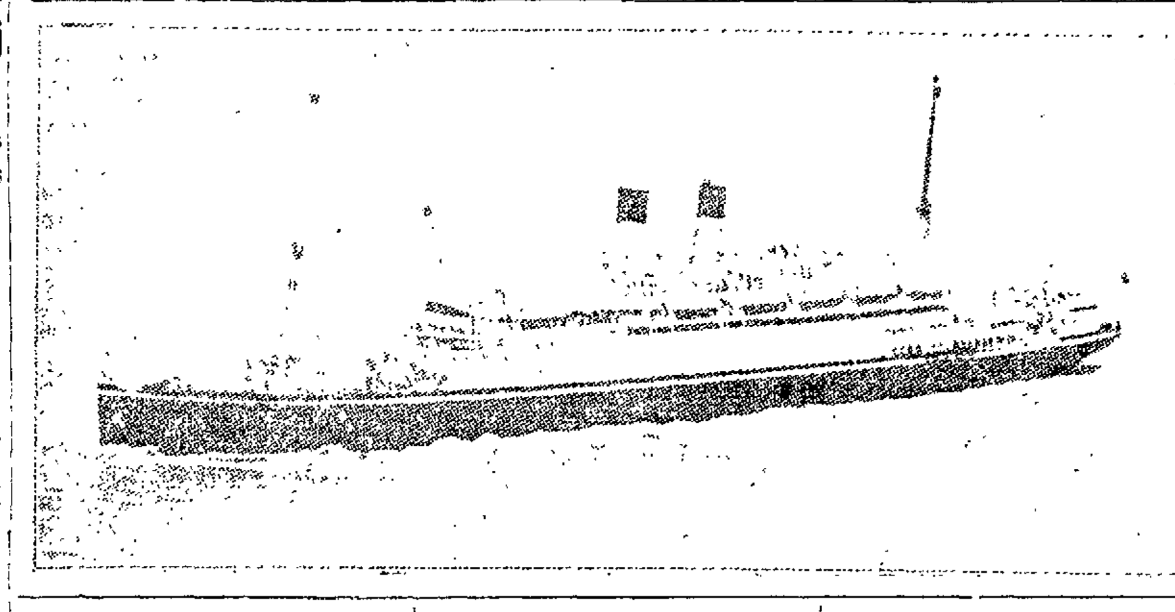

The sailing schedules of many vessels have been altered for the purpose of carrying to America large numbers of Japanese otherwise unable to return there before the immigration gates are closed. A notable case is that of the Shinyo Maru, which cancelled her trip to China and Manila and will leave Sunday for the Hawaiian Islands and San Francisco, carrying 300 men living in Hawaii and the brides they have secured here since Congress enacted the immigration law.

Three other special trips are scheduled, which will insure the return of all seeking passage. The vessels are completely given over to emigrants. Several will sail directly from Kobe and others from Yokohama thus cutting the length of the voyage and insuring the arrival of the Japanese within the time limit.

Japanese Vessels Racing With Emigrants

The YOKOHAMA MARU, the Persia Maru and the Korea Maru of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha service are headed across the Pacific with almost a thousand Japanese emigrants aboard. The boats are racing to beat the closing of the emigration gates to America. The Shinyo Maru cancelled her Chinese run in order to make a fast return to California.

Norwegian Ship Loads Big Cargo

ASTORIA, Ore., June 14.—The Norwegian steamer Landaas, after loading 775,0000 feet of Japanese and baby squares at the Astoria terminals, shifted last night to Wauna, where she will take on 200,000 feet of lumber for the Orient.

The Italian steamer Gerty is due from Vancouver and will take freight at Portland for Mediterranean points.

The steam schooner Brookings with freight from Portland and lumber from Westport, sailed for San Francisco.

WEST COAST NAV. LINE TO RESUME VACATED ROUTE

Blue Star Line Also to Put Additional Ships in "Refer" Service.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 14.—Decision has been made to resume the Portland (Ore.) coast ports service of the West Coast Navigation Company, which was halted with the loss of Admiral Nicholson on Umpqua Spit recently, it was announced Friday afaternoon. The Portland company now has a vessel under engagement whos name is not yet announced.

Plans for giving Pacific Northwest fruit exporters fast and adequate service to Europe this fall are being made by the Blue Star line, according to F. N. Steele, Portland representative of the Admiral Oriental line agent. The first big refrigerator carrier will probably arrive here during the last week in October for apples for the holiday trade in England. Others will follow at close intervals.

The steamer West Keats of the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company's fleet arrived today with 200 tons of miscellaneous freight from the Orient. The West Niger of the same fleet arrived at Moji Thursday, sailing from there the same evening for Shanghai.

The steamer Wm. N. Page, represented by the Columbia Pacific Company, sailed today for the North Atlantic with a full cargo of lumber loaded here and at outports.

WEATHER REPORT

Oakland and vicinity—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate westerly winds.

Northern California—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate westerly winds.

Sacramento, Santa Clara, and San Joaquin—Fair tonight nd Sunday; light northerly winds.

Southern California: Fair tonight and Sunday, light northwesterly winds.

Nevada—Fair tonight and Sunday.

Idaho—Fair and cooler tonight; Sunday fair.

Washington and Oregon—Cloudy west, fair east portion tonight and Sunday; moderate westerly winds.

CONDITIONS.

The depression over the interior has moved slowly eastward and the pressure has increased along the coast. This has caused generally fair weather over the Pacific slope except cloudy in the western portion of Washington and Oregon. Light rain has fallen in Montana, the Dakotas, Alberta, Manitoba, portions of the Missouri valley and the north Atlantic states. In other districts the weather is fair.

Conditions are favorable for generally fair and pleasant weather in this district tonight and Sundy.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of tides the only tides are given in the order of their occurrence commencing with the early morning tide in the left hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns of height give the elevation of each tide above the plane of reference of the Coast and Geodetic Survey chart soundings, except where the numbers are preceded by the minus sign or dash, when the heights are below.

ENGINEER DAVIS SPEAKS.

Every time Arthur P. Davis delivers an address such as the one he made yesterday before the Chamber of Commerce, he performs a valuable service for the Municipal Utilities District.

Along with the unquestioned need for a water supply to meet future demands, is a need for an understanding of the possibilities, a clear picture of the situation. Mr. Davis spoke for the open-minded view of the problem, for an unbiased and nonpartisan approach, and his words met the approval of his hearers.

The problem is not one to be understood readily by the layman. When the experts in the employ of the District have not made up their minds and are not prepared to make recommendation, it is unwise, if not downright foolish, for anyone else to urge one source or one site over another.

Most of the work which has been done by the Directors and experts for the District has been done on borrowed money because of the fact that a tax levy for the purpose will not be possible until the end of the year. It will be feasible, however, after July 1, to issue warrants upon the certainty of the levy and this will be done. Active work on the field surveys and investigations will be under way next month and upon this work as well as upon the outcome of legal disputes and the answers returned to questions put by the Directors to those interested in specific projects, the recommendations may be made.

The District has the assurance of Mr. Davis that the decision as to outside sources will be made strictly upon merit. There is every incentive to the voters to become conversant with the facts as brought out and to maintain open minds until the investigations are complete. Of this Mr. Davis said:

"It is natural that each source should have its partisans and the partisan spirit in such cases spreads and is often violent in expression. But the policy of the Board of Directors of the Utility District is to examine every source without fear or favor, to assemble the evidence as rapidly as possible, to get all the facts, and then to weigh this evidence and reach a decision based on merit, and merit alone. In short, it will be governed by scientific methods, maintaining an open and judicial mind until the facts are all in and are carefully analyzed. It will then decide and go before the people with a full presentation of the reasons for its choice. In pursuing this policy it has not lost sight of the extreme urgency of the situation and no time will be lost."

This open mind policy, advocated by THE TRIBUNE from the first, has no heartier an exponent than Mr. Davis. The issues at stake, the amount of money to be spent, and the needs to be served, are too great to admit of any decision or action not founded upon the fullest expert investigation and research.

DAWES, A GOOD CHOICE.

After hours of excitement and concern during which it was sought to name a man who would exert the largest possible political appeal in those sections of the country where such an appeal is most needed, the Republican national convention nominated for the Vice-Presidency a man who does not meet the requirements of the politician. Charles Gates Dawes possesses something which is much stronger, a grasp upon the American imagination and a record of performing large tasks in a competent manner.

The Republicans have named two men of demonstrated character and ability and with this accomplishment the convention closes happily. The platform is straightforward and unambiguous, leaving no grounds upon which the La Follette faction may stand other than those of personal ambition or frank radicalsim.

General Dawes was a popular figure in the country before he was talked of for the Vice-Presidency. He is well liked for his rigid virtues and outspoken ways, as well as for his thorough abilities to perform large service. These abilities have caused him to be drafted into many large and perplexing undertakings. In the time of emergency the thought has been Dawes and he has never been afraid to undertake work which seemed foredoomed to failure.

It took a brave man, if he possessed political ambitions, to head the reparations commission for the deliberations on that subject have been marked with efforts wasted and terminated careers. Dawes took the job and saw it through, emerging as an outstanding example of American competency. He has been comptroller of the currency, a brigadier-general in the World War, chairman of the General Purchasing Board of the A. E. F., member of the Allied Purchasing Board of the Liquidation Commission of the Allies and Director of the Federal Budget System, and not one word of criticism has been directed against any of his acts.

Instead, the manner in which he has reorganized cumbersome departments, cut off extravagance in Government, and applied the same rules of sense and business to departments and bureaus has won him praise from a whole country, regardless of party, and given him a reputation before the world. In a single year, as Director of the Budget, he cut national expenses by from 250 to 300 millions of dollars.

The accomplishments of this man have been for the good of the entire nation. The make-up of the man meets the favor of all. There seems to be nothing he cannot do. Starting in life as a gas manufacturer, he became a banker, a lawyer; an author and a composer. The same Dawes who smokes a pipe and says "Hell an' Maria" in the face of red tape and bureaucratic methods, has composed music of the kind which Kreisler loves to play. If he is without some of those qualifications of residence and occupation which are regarded as politically expedient, he possesses greater recommendation in the fact that he has been tried and proved in large work and that he is well liked by the American people.

TODAY IS FLAG DAY.

It was on June 14, 1777, that Congress adopted a resolution, "That the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

And yet this banner which bore the new constellation is the third oldest of the national standards of the world. It is older than the Union Jack of Britain and the Tricolor of France. It was flown first at the military post of Fort Schuyler on August 3, 1777, or, as others have it, at Fort Stanwix on the site of Rome, New York, on the same day. Three days later it was under fire for the first time at the battle of Oriskany.

In 1794, when Vermont and Kentucky were admitted to the Union the number of stars and stripes was raised to fifteen. As other States came in it became evident that while the stars could be increased there was a limit to the number of stripes. So, in 1818, Congress decided to reduce the stripes to thirteen and keep that as the number while a star should be added for each succeeding state. That is the law today.

The flag was first carried into battle at the Brandywine, September 11, 1777, and it first flew over foreign territory on January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands, Fort Nassau having been captured by the Americans in the Revolutionary War. The French Admiral, La Motte Piquet, rendered the first foreign salute to the American flag off Quiberon Bay, February 13, 1778.

This is the flag as we know it and a brief sketch of its history. Before the stars and stripes there were other banners, suggested and flown in separate places. At Cambridge, January 2, 1776, Washington raised a flag which had the British flag as a union and a field of thirteen red and white stripes.

When the banner which is having its 147th birthday today was first flown the whole of the United States was in those thirteen commonwealths on the Atlantic seaboard and the population of the country was approximately three millions. Today the forty-eight states extend across the continent which in those days was so bewilderingly large. The flag floats over islands in two oceans and owing it allegiance are more than 130 millions of persons.

While the men who founded the country were fighting their war of independence and setting up the Government of the United States on the Eastern coast, intrepid explorers were making perilous journeys to the far Pacific and to this remote country came the padres, the Spaniards, Russians, and others. In the measures of travel and communication they were farther removed from the thirteen original states than the longest distance which can be marked upon the globe today.

All that has taken place in the history of the United States as a nation is in the story of less than 150 years. In that time the stars and stripes has been raised to proud position and in that time the power and responsibilities of those over whom it flies have been increased a thousand-fold.

It is only Vice-Presidential black horses who shy at the nomination.

THE CONNING TOWER

MATURITY.

He hardened the shell of his soul to hear
Songs that assail no human ear;

He stilled the beat of his heart to know
Mysteries whispered low, too low.

He waked to find his tongue as well
Locked when it had the most to tell. ADUL TIMA.

Words and Music.

Sir: Put me on record as being one of the seventy-six contribs to call your attention to the fact that in the case of most of Victor Herbert's songs the music was written first, so that the lyric writers are not so much to blame; because, have you ever tried writing words to a tune? If not, do so, and you will realize why so many of them have words like Ump-de-da-da, Rackety Coo, Ja-Da, Deedle Deedle Dum and so forth. Take, for instance, Herbert's own "Italian Street Song" from "Naughty Marietta," the present words of which are "Zing, zing, zizzy zizzy zing," or something like that. See kin you do any better with that wonderful tune, and if so, then you may rap the other lyricists.

SAM HILL.

What they were singing out in Cleveland the other day we don't remember. But if the Ohio delegation wanted an anthem it could have done worse than take the favorite poem, "Ohio," which appeared in the Cincinnati Business Woman and is as follows:

On the north it's bounded by Lake Erie,
Just a bit of Michigan, too.
On the south by West Virginia
And Kentucky with its grass of blue.
On the west by Indiana,
Pennsylvania on the east, you know.
In the center of this great boundary
Lies OHIO.

But maybe the entire convention would rather have sung that best of national anthems, written, to the best of our knowledge, by Kalmar and Ruby. It goes something like:

A is for our glorious navy;
M is for the boys in blue;
E is for our submarine detachment—
R for the White House so true.
I is for President Coolidge,
C is for the flag we love—
A-M-E-R-I-C-A!
And there's a million people feeling the same.

Spring Night.

We slip the darkness round us like a shawl
Shot through with scents, as with embroidery;
The pool is spread with stars, which momently
Grow brighter, as the waters lap and fall.
The trees are straight here, and so very tall
Their interfluent branches top the sky,
And in the garden, where the night birds cry,
The flower beds, like shadowed peacocks, sprawl.

We must not speak, beneath these shrouding trees—
Shatter with sound this little, purloined space
That is our own, for it would break the spell.
We need not speak, who read in every breeze,
In every whisper of this charmed place,
Those things which some day will need words to tell.
ALICE GLASGOW.

Plans for the entertainment of delegates to the convention in New York include visits to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, Barnard Cloisters, the Art Center, Columbia University, the Jumel Mansion, Poe's Cottage and the Hall of Fame. One imagines a scene in the home of an Oregon delegate. "I couldn't sleep last night, Ma," he says. "I was thinking of the exciting time I'm going to have in New York. Just think; only fifteen more days and I'll actually see the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, to say nothing of Barnard Cloisters."

Among yesterday's comparatively thrilling callers was Mr. Stoddard King, author of "There's a Long, Long Trail," and column conductor of the Spokane Spokesman-Review. Mr. King, as those who commit this department to memory will recall, has gone to New York to act as guest conductor of The Conning Tower. He will lead the column next Monday, June 16. "Will you surely have your stuff in by 8 Sunday night?" we asked. "Yes," said Mr. King, who is known in Washington as Old Chatterbox.

A Tabloid Novel of Hurt Street.

Sir: Suggested plot for novel: A Southern family moves to Brooklyn; neighbors on one side named Bird, on the other side Boyd. An athaletic Brookalyn cousin of the Southerns tells them that the Birds are nice people, but under no circumstances to associate with the Boyds. From there on it ought to be easy to work up the story.

"The great need of the world today," President Faunce of Brown University told the Mount Holyoke graduating girls, "is mutual understanding and sympathy, and women are richer in these qualities than men ever were or can be." As one who possesses these qualities to a conspicuous degree, we assert that President Faunce's statement is nonsense. In the year 1923, in the state of New Hampshire alone, 61.4 per cent of the mutual understanding and sympathy was furnished by men.

THE THRILL THAT COMES ONCE IN A LIFETIME

THE NATIONAL PRESS

Richmond Times-Dispatch: "It is refreshing to have President Coolidge reveal some of the unalloyed sentiment that dwells in the inner man against the stern, icy exterior. Not often does the country get such a glimpse of the taciturn, almost forbidding, New Englander who sits in the White House, and it comes as a pleasing, reassuring revelation. At the Confederate memorial exercises, in Arlington cemetery, Mr. Coolidge's usual reserve melted appreciably under the warmth of the tender theme to which he addressed himself."

Minneapolis Journal: "Primaries do not choose for us public servants of the quality good government needs. Popular election of senators not only return us second-rate men too often, but also traverses the design of the fathers of the upper house of Congress. They contemplated a Senate composed of representatives of the states of the Union, to be chosen, therefore, by the Legislatures of the states. That plan for more than a 100 years gave the nation the services of unusual men, whereas, since popular election came in, the Senate has not been and is not now a body of able men."

Kansas City Star: "Political Washington is guessing, we hear, as to what Senator La Follette is going to do. Political Washington must be very dense if it can't guess. Senator La Follette is going to do what he always has done, and everybody, with the seeming exception of political Washington, knows what that is. Senator La Follette is going to fight his party at Cleveland and get licked. That's always been his role in the Republican party — he couldn't be licked oftener if he were a Democrat."

Portland Oregonian: "The accident may be pardoned if it fails to understand the curious reasoning of the orient. For example, the means employed by Japanese to demonstrate their civilization, their equality with any race, seem most fantastic. Without reproof or hindrance from the police, or the Imperial government, organized rioters enter a Tokyo ballroom and disperse a gathering of Americans of both sexes. Japanese newspaper photographers are there with their cameras. The insult is an open secret. The bravos brandish swords."

New York Herald-Tribune: "The long awaited manifesto issued by Senator La Follette turns out to be nine-tenths defensive and one-tenth offensive. It is chiefly devoted to rejecting the communistic alliance proffered by the proponents of the Farmer-Labor convention scheduled to be held at St. Paul on June 17. There is no direct promise or threat to run for the presidency. The great offensive simmers down to some exceedingly general and threadbare phrases about the 'purging' of the old parties."

New Orleans Item: "The Methodist church, after years of discussion, has modified its discipline to sanction theater attendance by its members. This is provided 'play and pictures of immoral, questionable and misleading character are avoided.' This act of the church will aid in the abolition of just such plays and pictures as these. While many Methodists independently attend theaters, thousands of others have not done so. Those will now increase theater attendance.'

Seattle Times: "It is estimated that it would cost nineteen billion dollars to eliminate all the grade crossings in the United States, an amount comparable with the cost of reproducing the railway lines. Since it is impracticable, the next best thing is to exercise due caution in motoring over grade crossings. 'He who hesitates is safe,' is a good motto."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

La Follette says "The country want a leader, not a political weathervane who spends his entire time with his car to the ground." Yes, Laff, we need leaders. We don't want a weathervane "with ears" nor a platform with wings. What we want is a stuffed club with biceps and keen nose for smelling out false alarms that it may swat them in the mouth where the loudest noises come from.—Hanford Sentinel.

Disembowling themselves as a patriotic protest against Japanese exclusion does not seem as convincing to Americans as the several Japanese gentlemen across the seas who tried it had hoped it would. Rather, American editors see in it one more evidence of the gulf between the mental processes of the two races.—Stockton Record.

San Luis Obispo may become a center in the motion picture producing industry, if plans now being worked out become a reality. Climatic conditions and natural scenic effects have been pronounced to be unexcelled, and if certain arrangements are completed San Luis Obispo may take on the aspect of a small Hollywood.—San Luis Obispo Tribune.

Among the intellectual nuts we have both the bad little poor boy and the rich little bad boy, and in three strikingly inhuman cases recently the little scions of the rich seem to be in the majority. All the nation is now trying to conjure up some reason why our boys go wrong, but the hold-ups and robberies go on with astonishing regularity just the same.—Hanford Sentinel.

Friend William Richardson, who for the time being is governor of California, vigorously defended his "economy program" before the state bankers. Vigor is his strong suit. "The yelp concerning my program," said Friend William, "is from grafting demagogues who are being squeezed away from the pie counter."—Sacramento Union.

Benjamin Doyle and Hal Orr, president and vice-president respectively of the Morrell Packing company, of Oakland, passed through Redding on their way home from a fishing trip into the Trinity mountains. They report fishing good and the scenery wonderful.—Redding Searchlight.

The coinage committee in Congress recommend miting 7½c coin in silver and nickel, which will bear the face of President Harding. It may be well enough as a souvenir or memorial, but there is no demand for such a coin. Nowadays it wouldn't even buy a nickel cigar.—Los Angeles Times.

A prisoner in the Stockton jail says it is the worst in Northern California. That may not be an enviable reputation for a jail to have except as a general warning that it is a good one to keep out of.—Stockton Record.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST

GETTING THE DOUGH.

Whene'er around the festal board sit four or five of us,
Queer wanderers through the lanes of life our follows to discuss.
The conversation wise and true ere very long will turn
Unto the sums of money ignoranuses can earn;
And soon upon the ear will fall this sentence soft and low,
"There's Jack! He has no wit at all, but he seems to get the dough."

Now, we are most intelligent, a brainy, clever crew,
There's little that we do not know,
but much we cannot do.
Upon our walls the sheepskins framed attest that we have been
To college, and of course you know what those diplomas mean;
They prove our right to scholarship and culture's aureate glow,
Yet in this curious world, it seems the blockheads get the dough.

We are so very wise and bright and they so very dull;
Each one of us with knowledge true has toiled to pack his skull,
And yet we struggle, day by day, to earn our milk and bread
And, speaking now financially, we never get ahead.
With our superior intellects, it mystifies us so How men at whom we sit and sneer, can gather in the dough.

Yet, looking back across their lives,
I see the things they've done,
The thoughts they've put in action and the battles they have won;
In brick and stone and lasting steel
I've seen their buildings rise,
I've seen them fashion useful things which every mortal buys,
They do the deeds we cannot do with all we've come to know,
And it's not hard to understand just why they get the dough!

PERSONAL HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. W. A. BRADY.

WHEE-ZZ WHEE-ZZ, WENT THE BRONCHIECTASIS.

If you are nursing a recurring "winter cough" or "dry catarrh" or chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis, take my advice and don't read this. It will only arouse your animosity, and goodness knows I have nothing against you as long as you don't come wheezing around about the bad weather we have here at home. For ten years I have been trying to tell you how to get along without too much concern about your bronicle toobs, and you have set me down as a crank with queer notions because my teachings have not always coincided with the almanacology of the subject. Most of your life you have constantly exercised yourself to avoid drafts, damp and changeable weather and comfortable underwear, these being the main prophylactic precautions laid down by the health authorities proper, the officials you pay to keep you well, whether they do or not. Now, if in spite of all this thoughtless care and coddling you have acquired a fixed cough and maybe an individual line of wheezes by way of accompaniment, I do not blame you for it. I don't even say I told you so. But tell me, is it fair to ask me to sympathize with you? No. Let the doctors and the health teachers who taught you how to acquire chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis sympathize with you. They're strong on sympathy, I have noticed.

"Please tell the doctors about the potsure treatment," writes a reader who has bronchiectasis. (That, by the way, means dilation of bronchial tubes, a fairly frequent occurrence in chronic bronchitis.) "Osler has it in his book." (Not in my copy though the great teacher mentions that change of posture often brings on severe coughing and the expectoration of a large quantity of sputum.) "One physician who assured me he was making a special study of my case never had heard of it. He had me sitting up in bed or a chair with backrest and pillows, when I was raising several cupfuls of sputum daily."

The use of posture as a remedial measure is perhaps not taken seriously enough by some physicians whose confidence in less rational agencies is childlike. At first blush it does seem undignified to stand a patient on his head, I suppose. A doctor is naturally anxious to put a patient on his feet—or he was before the advent of balloon tires.

Victims of chronic bronchitis with profuse expectoration, whether any bronchial tubes are dilated or not, commonly have a coughing spell on rising in the morning. Not a bad habit for them to assume an inverted posture for five or ten minutes at that time and again at mid-day and again before retiring or better half a dozen times every day. At least a posture which favors drainage from the bronchi through the mouth. Sometimes this is most easily effected by hanging the head and shoulders over the edge of the bed, resting the forearms on the floor. Sometimes the knee-crest posture is preferable. Head stands, somersaults, and the dach-shund crawl a number of times around the room are stunts which interest victims who have not yet wheezed their way into the chimney corner. These latter methods are not for grumpies with frail dignity and brittle arteries. All that wheezes is not old. Of course these postural maneuvers induce coughing—that is necessary to assist the drainage of the bronchiectatic cavities.

Another thing I've urged for many years in my insane way is that subjects of chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis, if not physically disabled, should take the air every day and the weather be damned. This implies a mind freed from weather-phobia, and that brings us to the question of climate, which will make a good story for another day.

Man Injured in Crash Taken Home

Injured in a collision with another automobile at East Twelfth street and Lakeshore avenue, according to the story told the police, Theodore Villa, colored, of 1035 Twenty-fourth street, was treated for internal injuries after being taken to his home by an unknown man while he was still unconscious.

Dr. W. D Wilson, who was called to treat Villa, reported the accident to the police Inspectors Edward O'Donnell and A B Stebbins were told by Villa that all he remembered after the accident was regaining consciousness as he was carried up the steps of his home by an unknown man

The stranger told him, Villa said, that he would find the key to his automobile in his pocket, and the automobile at the scene of the accident. The man also said: "I am not the man who hit you"

The inspectors found the machine badly damaged, and are seeking the driver of the machine

Sheep Dip, Not Vitriol, Splashes In Woman's Eye

Denying a report that an unidentified assailant had hurled a bottle of vitriol into her face last night Mrs Ernest Town of Castro Valley said today that a small quantity of sheep dip had splashed out of a container in a passing auto, and that a few drops of it had splashed out in the eye She said that the accident occurred while she was standing in front of the Castro Valley school, with her daughter Florence, aged 11, Mrs. W G. Middleton of Hayward and Mrs Middleton's daughter Harriet, aged 14.

They had been attending the graduation exercises of the Castro Valley school and were waiting for Middleton to come to take them home.

According to Mrs Town, as they were standing in front of the school an automobile drove past and some sort of liquid splashed upon her. A quantity of it got in her eyes, and caused a smarting sensation She went into the schoolhouse and washed her eyes. An examination showed that a quantity of sheep dip had been spilled upon her as the car drove past.

Middleton took her home shortly afterward. She stated that she had not been taken to a hospital as was reported.

CORNER LEASED FOR 99 YEARS

With the sale of the 99-year lease on the old State bank property at Thirteenth and Franklin streets to H. L. Yerxa of Redlands, work to complete the wrecking of the old building is proceeding rapidly. The sale of the lease was announced today.

Karl Raentsch, Oakland realty operator, secured the lease on the corner several months ago from the owner of the property, Robert McMullen

The plans for the erection of a 7-story office and store building on the site have been accepted and construction will start as soon as the present old building is removed, it was reported today.

U. S. WEBB RULES ON DOBLE STOCK SUBSCRIPTIONS

SAN FRANCISCO June 14 — Subscribers of stock in the Doble Steam Motors corporation after the permit for the sale of the stock in California had expired will not be able to obtain the company securities in return for their money, according to a decision of State Attorney General U S. Webb.

The opinion of Webb was given in connection with an application by the officials of the Doble company to issue an additional 37,000 shares of stock to make good the pledges of the F. G. Cox company, formerly fiscal agency for the Doble corporation of California.

Communicating with Corporation Commissioner Edwin M. Daugherty on the matter of the application of the Dobles for a permit to issue additional stock, Webb said:

"We do not mean to intimate that the Doble Steam Motors corporation may not make an application for a permit to sell additional stock, but merely hold that the stock heretofore sold in excess to the amount permitted cannot be validated."

DRY AGENT CONVICTED OF BRIBERY

George H. Crawford of S. F. Faces 3 Years in Jail and $10.000 Fine as Possible Penalty in Sonoma Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 —In spite of his contention that he accepted an alleged bribe of $10,000 from Sonoma county vineyardists merely to tempt them into revealing a huge bootlegging depot, Geo. H Crawford, former Federal prohibition agent, today faces a three-year jail sentence and a fine, as a result of the verdict of a Federal jury here

Sentence will be pronounced upon Crawford Saturday June 21, by Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan The maximum penalty which may be administered is three years in a Federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000

CRAWFORD COLLAPSES.

Crawford collapsed when the jury, after 40 minutes' deliberation, pronounced him guilty.

Crawford admitted in court that he took the $10,000 from Enrico Piatti, manager of the Seghesio winery near Healdsburg, in September, 1922. He and two other prohibition agents, Henry W. Meyer and Waldo W. Curtis had raided the place after a man in their employ had succeeded in having 200 gallons of wine from the Seghesio establishment Piatti was then declared to have offered the agents $10,000 to permit the winery owners to run the blockade into San Francisco with 60,000 gallons of wine. The money was paid to Crawford.

Crawford later turned this money over to United States Attorney John T. Williams and Alf Oftedahl, head of the local intelligence unit of the internal revenue, explaining that he had taken it merely to tempt the winery men into carrying out their plan to "flood" San Francisco with wine

McDONOUGH WARNED HIM.

He admitted later, however, that before turning the money over to the authorities he had been warned by Hale McDonough, bail bond broker, that he was being 'investigated"

Litigation is expected over the ownership of the $10,000 The Seghesio winery men claim it was extorted from them, and should be returned to them. The Federal authorities are seeking to prove that they offered it as a bribe and that it should be confiscated by the government.

YOUTHS NABBED FOR BAD CHECKS

BERKELEY, June 14 — Two youths who set out to see the state and have a good time are today in the hands of the police, who say they have confessed to passing bad checks amounting to $600. The lads are Clyde H Wilcox, 22, of Ramona and Burt R. Plank, 18.

Plank was arrested this morning by Patrolman Frank Waterbury and held on a warrant sworn out for him by the police of Riverside. Shortly afterward Police Inspector A. Woods went to the Hotel Moore at Shattuck avenue and Bancroft way, and arrested Wilcox after the latter had attempted to escape by climbing out of a third-story window

They probably will be prosecuted in connection with a check passed recently on the Benjamin Music Store of 2205 Shattuck avenue

City Puts Ban on Fireworks for Fourth Festivity

"Bootleggers" of Pyrotechnical Wares to Be Hunted by Police.

Taking steps lest some enterprising citizens lay in an early stock of pinwheels and skyrockets, Fire Chief Sam Short today announced that "under no circumstances will fireworks be allowed within the city limits of Oakland." The county supervisors, he says, have banned fireworks in the outer county.

The only fireworks that will be seen on the Fourth of July will be at Lakeside Park or at public places where permits will be given, including the amusement parks.

Commissioner Frank Colbourn today advised Chief of Police James T Drew to watch Chinatown during the Fourth of July festivities. Last Fourth, it is hinted there was a certain amount of "bootlegging" in firecrackers This year, it is intimated, the practice will be discouraged harshly.

The police and fire heads announced a policy of "strict supervision" throughout the whole Fourth of July period. The only things allowable, says Chief Drew, are sparklers and cap-pistols.

NO ACTION TAKEN BY GRAND JURY IN DEATH OF WOMAN

The shooting of Mrs Pearl Johnson an her subsequent death, is a closed incident as far as the office of District Attorney Ezra Decoto is concerned This statement was made today by Decoto following the action of the McElroy grand jury late yesterday in adjourning without taking any action in the matter The inquisitorial body voted not to bring in a true bill as the result of their investigation of the case.

Mrs. Johnson was mysteriously shot in her home at 1501 Seventy-ninth avenue late on the night of April 22, last. Her husband, Charles Johnson who was at home at the time, declared that she was shot by a burglar. Residents in the lower portion of the house declared that they heard some one run from the house just after the shooting, saying "Let's beat it."

One of the mysterious angles of the case was the finding of a gun which the police declare to have been the weapon used in the killing, hidden in the attic of the house.

No motive for the crime was apparent, the Johnsons having been a very happy couple for many years, according to relatives.

Oil Investors Sue To Recover $5700

Suit to recover $5700, said to have been invested in oil stocks on the strength of false representations, was filed here today by E. P. Lancell, representing himself and 15 other plaintiffs, who assigned their claims to him.

The suit is against the John N Benwell Company, Inc, and several directors, including John L Benwell, Mary A. Benwell and Oliver Lawson, who, it is said, is also known as Oliver Crook.

Lancell says he and the other plaintiffs were induced to invest their savings in the oil company on the strength of fraudulent representations

CITY ISSUES 200 PERMITS FOR BUILDING

Value of Licenses Taken Out During Past Week $494,585; Plans Include $30,000 Garage and 59 Dwellings

Building activities in Oakland are still going forward at a rapid pace, according to the summary of permits for the past week which shows that a total of 200 permits was taken out involving the expenditure of $494,585

Of this number, 59 were for one-story dwellings, totaling $174,000. The largest single permit was for a brick garage to be built at a cost of $30,000.

It is reported that, although Oakland kept up her building activities during May, and San Francisco showed an increase of about 11 per cent, there was a general decline of about 17 per cent in the building activities of Pacific Coast cities for that period as compared to May of last year.

In Oakland there was a total of 1103 building permits issued during the month of May. The total amount of these permits was $2,241,583.

We Want to Talk to the Man Who Has to Be Shown!

The chap from Missouri is the one we delight to argue with. The man who carries caution to the extreme (not a bad habit when it comes to investing), who has to be shown when it comes to letting loose of his money. To this man we want to say:

1st. We operate under strict state supervision and under wise state laws.
2nd. State law requires us to loan funds in our care only upon approved real estate and with first trust deeds as security.
3rd. A pass book account may be opened at any time and for any sum from $1 upwards.
4th. A pass book account with us is not stock. It carries no stockholders' liability.
5th. Your money may be withdrawn at any time with little or no notice.
6th. Our permanent paid-in capital-surplus is $193,149.00.
7th. Our resources are over $2,300,000.
8th. The safety of the invested sum and the payment of the interest are guaranteed.
9th. The value of your investment will not fluctuate.
10th. Your money works at full power.

If you are a man from Missouri, we will be glad to confer with you in person, or mail our folder of detailed information upon request.

THIS IS A FISH STORY

I admit it. In fact, I'm the fish!

For years I've been drifting around never biting in one place, always hunting for something—I didn't know what

Then I grabbed the bait, a topic announced in one of the preacher's talks. THEIR'S Saturday evening Church Papers just appealed to me

The next thing I knew I landed in church!

Sure, I'm the fish—not because I want to church last Sunday (I'm going again tomorrow), but because it was there I found the thing I've been looking for all these years of restless searching and I can't help thinking of the time I've wasted.

KID PITCHERS SHOW UP VETERANS WHEN OAKS LOSE

CALIFORNIA, STANFORD AND U. S. C. ATHLETES RANK AMONG LEADERS IN OLYMPIC TRIALS

"Sox" Seibold Again Fails As Relief Man

Walter Mails Is Bumped By Tigers: Grant Harris Hurls Great Ball.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Oakland baseball fans have been begging for the Oakland club to allow Grant Harris, the youthful pitcher, to open up a game but for some reason that has the fans puzzled trying to figure it out, Harris is not allowed to do any more than to serve as relief pitcher and that only after Manager Ivan Howard feels that he has no other hurler ready for duty. The kid has shown in several games as relief hurler and each time made good. Harry Siebold has failed time after time to hold down the opposing side after he stepped in as relief hurler, but in spite of that, Seibold is bound to be out on the hill in at least one game a week. He was called upon yesterday afternoon again, after Walter Mails was pounded around the lot by the Vernon Tigers. As usual he failed to check the enemy and they increased their lead.

MAILS LASTS QUICK.

Mails allowed two doubles, and a homer by Denny Murphy in the first inning to give the Tigers a three-run lead. In the next inning he allowed the first man to hit, cracked the next batter on the left hip with a pitched ball, and also let Kenneth Penner, the Tiger pitcher, nick him for a hit. That was too much for Walter, so he stepped from the box and in trotted Seibold with the fans in the stands protesting Manager Ivan Howard's move. A sacrifice bunt, a long sacrifice fly that scored a run, a triple by Jimmy Blakesley and a walk was the record against Seibold, before he retired the Tigers.

The Oaks got two runs in their half on a walk to McCarron and Guisto's long run smash over the left field fence. In the third inning Seibold walked two Tigers, but managed to get the side out without a score. The Oaks gained another run in their half on singles by Brubaker, Adams and McCarron. But the run was little use as Seibold helped the Tigers to two more in the fourth, allowing Bernard a single, Blakesley a double and Deal a single and making a wild pitch himself. This left the Tigers leading 8 to 3. The final score was 8 to 4, the Oaks adding one more in the fifth.

HARRIS IS CHEERED.

Following Deal's single, Grant Harris was sent to the hill and the fans cheered loud for the kid hurler. Four hits and no runs, two of the hits to the infield, and another a double on a short fly which Arlett could not reach, was the record against Harris for the four and two-third innings he worked. He gave way to a pinch hitter, and Francis Robertson, a local rookie hurler, twirled the last inning and he also looked better than Seibold.

Fans applauded every little thing that the two kid hurlers did in the way of retiring the Tigers. Harris had four assists in the short time he was on the mound. It is no wonder that the fans are shouting for Ivan Howard to let him start a game. In the eighth inning Bernard got a double and Blakesley walked with none out. Deal bunted to Harris, and the kid fielded the ball like a veteran to throw out Bernard at third. Denny Murphy beat out a slow roller to McCarren to fill the bags, and Harris remained cool as a block of ice and held Warner to a slow roller to Adams who made a snappy play to Brubaker who shot the ball to first for a double play. This inning set the fans wild over Harris.

SEALS PITCH KIDS.

The Oaks got three hits in a row to score their fourth run off Penner in the fifth inning. Had Harris been sent to the mound at the time Seibold went in, the Oaks would have had a very good chance to win the ball game. Maybe now Ivan Howard will be willing to allow Harris to start a ball game. The Seals are allowing Marty Griffin and "Lefty" Williams, a pair of kids to take their regular turns on the mound and none of them have as much experience as Harris.

Yesterday's win was the eleventh in fifteen games pitched by Penner. Oliver Mitchell, leading hurler of the league, started for the Seals and was batted out of the box, but Friday the 13th did not bring him any bad breaks in the defeat column, as the Seals rallied later on and won the game.

Taylor, Scholz Establish New World's Marks

Neufeldt, Hartranft, Anderson, Houser, Boren and Leistner All Qualify.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 14.—American hopes of another international track and field triumph in the 1924 Olympic games at Paris were raised to high pitch yesterday when the pick of Uncle Sam's athletes, competing in the preliminaries to the final tryouts at the Harvard stadium, smashed two world's records in one of the most remarkable exhibitions of speed and brawn ever witnessed in a single meet.

Sensational performances in nearly every event exceeded the expectations of the most ardent Yankee supporters.

No better proof of the brilliant calibre of today's tests can be given than the fact that 11 performances bettered present Olympic records, while three others equaled international standards.

The world's record feats that stood out brightly against this vivid background of athletic achievement were hung up by Jackson Scholz, veteran New York Athletic club sprinter, who established a new 200 meter mark of 21 seconds flat, and J. Coard Taylor, a club mate and former intercollegiate champion, who created a new mark of 48 1-10 seconds for the 400 meter run. Sharing the glory with Taylor was Ray Robertson of the Boston A. A., who was given another trial after he had failed to place in the eastern tryouts at New York last Saturday and came back to win his heat and equal Taylor's remarkable time.

Scholz, whose come back to form has been an outstanding feat of the year, was the brightest of the meet's stars, for he also won two 100 meter trials in the Olympic record-equaling time of 10 6-10 seconds and in one of them conquered Charley Paddock, California flier and Olympic champion.

Tieing the mark with the flashiest array of sprinters ever gathered together in this country, Scholz fairly flew over the stadium track that was lightning fast under ideal weather conditions. [illegible] the 200 meter distance clipped 1-10 of a second off the world's mark set only two weeks ago by Eric Wilson, Iowa university crack, who today showed his versatility by starring in the 400 meter run.

Penner Would Like to Equal Arlett's Mark

Former Senator Hurler Is Having Big Season With Vernon Club.

Kenneth Penner, former Sacramento hurler and now with the Vernon Tigers, is anxious to equal the mark of twenty-nine wins set by "Buz" Arlett when he hurled for the Oaks in 1920. The change from the Senator to Tiger uniform seems to have done Penner a lot of good. To date he has won eleven games and lost but four and is giving Oliver Mitchell of the Seals a good battle for the league pitching honors. The league record for wins is thirty-five, set by Jackie May of Vernon.

Penner is a right hander and was born in Booneville, Ind., which may have been named after Daniel Boone, the pioneer hunter, and Indian fighter. They say Dan'l could knock a squirrel's eye out at 50 yards with his old flint-lock and Penner can pretty nearly do that with a baseball.

Kenneth was born April 24, 1896, and is six feet tall with a heft of 185 pounds. He bats left handed. Penner's home is in Memphis, Tenn.

His first experience was with the Cadillac club of the Michigan state league in 1914. The next year he was with Keokuk in the Central Association. Marshalltown of the same league obtained his services in 1916 and he won 23 ball games for that club, his record being impressive enough to get him a job with the Cleveland Americans, to whom he reported in the fall.

Walter McCredie, the former Portland manager, obtained him from Cleveland in the spring of 1917. Portland was out of the Coast league in 1918 and inasmuch as McCredie managed Salt Lake that year, he took Penner with him to Beetown. He went back to Portland with McCredie in 1919 and was sold to Sacramento in 1920, playing with the Senators continuously until his purchase by Bill Essick last winter.

Penner is known as a smart pitcher and Essick figures he will be a big help to the Bengals. His best year on the coast was in 1917 with the Portland club, when he won 22 ball games with a mediocre club.

"There's one thing I won't have to do this year and that is to pitch against the Murphy boys, Rod and Denny," said Penner. "Last year I held Vernon to seven hits in one game and of these Rod got four while Denny got the rest."

GOLF

Mrs Harold Beard with one club (a mid iron) medaled the Sequoyah course yesterday in 90, her handicap 22, recorded a gross of 112. Mrs. J. H. Stineman also playing with a mid iron, was second with a net of 91. The Sequoyah course is not suited for one club play as many of the holes demand a lofted shot. Mrs. Stineman found the plateau 4th difficult, she took 11 strokes before holeing out.

Mrs. C. G. Knight had the best gross score, using a mid iron she handed in a medal score of 111-18-93. Playing conditions were ideal with just enough wind to make playing comfortable.

The leading scores were as follows:

Mrs. Harold Beard (22) 90 low net.

Mrs. J. H. Stineman (29) 91 2nd low net.

Mrs. C. G. Knight, 111-18-93 low gross.

Others competing were: Mrs. Robt. Blacow, Mrs. R. B. Oliver, Mrs. J. D. Oliver, Mrs. Horace Hare, Mrs. Clarence Graham, Mrs. C. G. Knight, Miss Elizabeth Knight, Miss Hutt, Mrs. O. Ellinghouse, Mrs. George Vesper, Mrs. J. R. McCaffrey, Miss Cathrine McCaffrey.

Gotham Clubs Having Plenty To Worry Over

Giants Lose Lead and Yankees Are Tied With the Boston Red Sox.

Baseball histories of the future will say that the Battle of Detroit was fought on Friday the Thirteenth. Its approximate cause will be traced to a recent skirmish in the Yankee Stadium.

Bob Meusel, Yankee outfielder, fired the shot heard around the baseball world upon Pitcher Cole after the Tiger hurler hit him with a pitched ball in the ninth inning when New York was leading, 10 to 6.

Coming after three days of bitter play during which Yankee players were convinced that Cobb's pitchers were working under orders to "dust them off" in the pinches, Meusel's effort, though wild, incited a riot among players, spectators and police, which ended with a forfeiture to New York, Umpire Evans declaring the score to be 9 to 0.

After the battle the Yanks remained tied for first place with the Red Sox, who defeated Cleveland 8 to 3. Washington jumped back into the first division by driving Danforth from the box and beating the Browns, 6 to 4. The Athletics won a 7 to 6 battle from the White Sox, whose three-run rally in the ninth was checked by Baumgartner after Meeker was batted from the box.

A less spectacular but more important disaster visited the Giants who were forced out of leadership by losing to the Reds, 4 to 1, in ten innings as Chicago beat Boston, 5 to 1. A bad day was completed for the Metropolitan teams as Brooklyn lost to St. Louis, 8 to 4, and dropped to within one point of the Reds in fourth place. Pittsburg's contest at Philadelphia was postponed on account of rain.

S. C. Yacht Club to Enter in Local Race

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—The California Yacht club of Los Angeles will be represented by the Debra in the Perpetual Challenge Trophy "R" boat races with the Corinthian Yacht club at San Francisco July 6, it was announced by Commodore Herbert L. Dr. H. G. Meek Defeats Bell In First Round

Harry Mack Turns in Low Gross for Stock Exchange Tournament.

By W. D. McNICOLL.

Dr. H. G. Meek and Harry Bell played off their first round match yesterday at Sequoyah in the championship flight. Dr. Meek winning by a score of 6-5 now meets the winner of the Dr. C. H. Walter and H. R. Cossitt match in the second round. As the club champion is likely to assert himself in today's match, tomorrow's contest will be closely watched by the experts who figure Dr. Meek likely to break into the elite circle very soon.

In the fourth flight Walter Reed, conceding S. F. Umphred 2 up, won his way to the secon round by a score of 5-4.

The first tee at Sequoyah is closed to all but tournament players today between 12 and 2:30, but Bob MacDonald may be able to arrange for a few friendly matches starting from the tenth.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange golfers held their annual championship festivities yesterday at Claremont, and although the attendance was smaller than anticipated, those who participated had a most enjoyable afternoon's golf and an equally good time in the new club house, where Mr. Singleton prepared a sumptous repast for his guests.

Harold L. Mack justified his low handicap rating of 6 by annexing the low gross prize. His medal round of 84 would have been several strokes lower but poor putting kept him in the eighties. John Parrott was his nearest rival, with only one stroke over the winner. The low net trophy went to R. H. Cooper, who kept most of his tee ficulty in rounding the Claremont course in 96-25-71.

Boyd L. Wilson Sr. had the excellent card of 86-14-72, which gained him second net honors. W. H. Haffter, dan 18 handicappe player, was third with 74, one stroke ahead of M. Lichtenberg, whose card read 91-10-75.

A generous supply of trophies which almost equalled the number of competitors were awared to players scoring best in the tournament, and presented during the evening with fitting ceremony.

The detailed scores were as follows:

Harold L. Mack	84	6	78
John Parrott	85	6	79

Young Carmen, Jimmy Duffy In Main Event

Johnny Farr Rematched With Eddie Macey for Next Wednesday Night.

Young Carmen who put up such a sensational bout last Thursday night to defeat Gene Cline in the main event at San Jose, has been matched with Jimmy Duffy for the main event of the boxing show to be staged at the Oakland Auditorium next Wednesday night. Carmen was dropped for the count of six by Cline, but came back in the next round and floored his opponent four times.

Eddie Macey and Johnny Farr who put up such a sensational bout last Wednesday evening, with Farr being awarded a doubtful decision, have been rematched. Promoter Tommy Simpson has put several new faces on the card which follows:

Jimmy Duffy vs. Young Carmen.
Eddie Macey vs. Johnny Farr.
Fred Sullivan vs. Dusty Miller.
Jack Burns vs. Eddie Kelly.
Cliff Ramies vs. Young Franklin.
Vic Morrison vs. Sammy Rubidoux.
Louis Garcia vs. Eddie Starkey.

Abe Mitchell Is Defeated by George Duncan

Jim Barnes of America Meets With Defeat in Semi-Final Golf Play.

BULLETIN.
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

GLEN EAGLES, Scotland, June 14.—George Duncan, veteran British golf professional, today defeated Abe Mitchell, another noted golfing champion, by 8 and 7 in the deciding 36-holes match of the thousand guineas tournament.

GLEN EAGLES, Scotland, June 14.—Jim Barnes, the American professional golfer, yesterday was eliminated from the one thousand guineas golf tournament by George Duncan, Great Britain, the hero of many hard-fought contests, by a score of 2 up and 1 to play. Barnes on Thursday qualified for the semi-final round by winning from Aubrey Boomer, the former French open champion, 1 up.

Barnes played his second shot exceptionally well, and led to the fourth green, where the match was squared. Duncan then took the lead, but Barnes stuck close to him throughout and after a gallant fight the end came on the penultimate green.

Angel de la Torre took Abe Mitchell to the last green, where Mitchell won. Duncan and Mitchell will play the final today.

Kinsey, Casey Score Wins Over Australian Men

SANTA BARBARA, June 14.—Two members of the Australian Davis cup tennis team were eliminated in the second round of play in the men's singles event of the third annual Montecito Country club tournament here yesterday, while the two remaining will face strong competition. R. E. Schlesinger dropped his match to Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-2, while his teammate, Fred Kalms, was losing to Ray Casey, [illegible]

Gerald Patterson will face Robert Kinsey in the third round of play tomorrow, while Pat O'Hara Wood will meet Peck Griffin of San Francisco.

Patterson was forced to three sets to win from Morgan Fottrell of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4, immediately after defeating Hinckley and Meriz of Stanford, paired with Wood, 6-1, 6-3. Wood had little trouble in winning from Phil Neer of Stanford, 6-0, 6-3.

Mrs. E. F. Deinert and Mrs. Whatley of San Francisco were the surprise of the day, when they eliminated Miss Winifred Suhr and Miss Charlotte Hosmer of the bay district in the ladies' doubles, 7-5, 6-1.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Los Angeles remains a favorite in the women's singles, although she is hard pressed by the Misses Anna and Lucy McCane of Berkeley and Mrs. Ream Leachman of San Francisco.

CRACK ATHLETIC TEAMS LOSE 14 STARS BY BLAST

Dinghy and Whaleboat Crews Shattered; Football Hero Among Victims.

SAN PEDRO, June 14. — Blue-jackets of the U. S. S. Mississippi, saddened by Thursday's disaster, have begun to contemplate their losses from an athletic standpoint and fin that the explosion in the turret snuffed out the lives of its officers and men of the boat while at target practice, wrecked the athletic supremacy which the dreadnaught held over the battle fleet of the nation. Fourteen star athletes perished in the fire.

Not only the the dingy and whaleboat crews shattered by the tragedy, but one of the navy's football heroes, Joe Berg, all-fleet guard is gone.

The whaleboat crew which won the fleet championship at Culebra last February is hardest hit, seven men and the coxswain of the crew of twelve men having been killed. These dead are Howard D. Walkup, James D. Holliday, Andrew R. Kinney, Wallace W. Keys, Carl C. Caldwell, William P. Lubo, Albert Darazio and Paul H. Christensen. The coach of the whaleboat crew, Lieutenant Thomas E. Zellers, also perished.

The dingy crew, fleet champions, loses G. Byers and J. G. Sharkley.

Holiday and Lubo both were star athletes of the Mississippi and each contributed many points toward winning for her the athletic trophy going to the champion ship of the fleet for four consecutive years.

Holiday played first base for the baseball team, while Lubo was considered one of the best football players in the navy.

Women Author's Work Misunderstood

A lack of knowledge on the part of short story writers and novelists concerning the place of women in the business world is responsible for the unconscious campaign of the writers to discourage women from entering business, Miss Lillian Palmer of San Francisco told the Oakland Business and Professional Women's club last night.

Miss Palmer reviewed several late works of fiction to illustrate her contention.

How to Write 'Local Lafs'

By the Local Laf Editor

What makes jokes funny?

Josh Billings gained his effects by racy exaggeration; by applying commonplace terms to ordinary things. For instance he spoke of the "business end of the bee when he wished to mention the stinger. Students of humor may readily apply this method to other things. By seeking out some object that causes human woe and by giving it a new name, humor is created. Many funny things have been written around poison oak, for instance:

Artemus Ward relied upon illiteracy, misspelling and grotesquerie. He says: "I tell you the world shore was startled to learn that it revolves around on her axle-tree onct in twenty-four hours, subjeck to the Constitution of the United States."

Mark Twain had a quaint conceit and a sense of the highly ridiculous. He spoke of the "enterprising oyster" with fine irony and he transcended the bounds of imagination when he asked: "What happens to the spirits of the petrified dead at the resurrection?" He anwered that by "reckoning" that they would be "polished."

P. T. Barnum relied upon "sells", pranks and practical jokes.

As for example:

Snap: What tastes like an onion, looks like an onion and smells like an onion?"

Sap: I don't know. What is it?

JAPAN OPPOSES ANTI-U. S. MOVES

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TOKYO, June 14.—A statement opposing anti-American demonstrations as a means of expressing disapproval of the new United States immigration law barring Japanese was made today by Masahiro Ota, the new chief of the Tokyo police bureau. Ota is a political appointee and the statement was his first since his installation under the new ministerial regime. It is regarded as an enunciation of the new cabinet's policy regarding anti-American agitation.

The boycott on American-made motion picture films, due to resentment because of the recently enacted exclusion of Japanese immigrants from America, has been brought to the attention of the Japanese government by the American embassy here.

The boycott here is breaking down. The police have announced that full protection will be given any theater showing American-made films and have warned "patriots" as the most active supporters of the boycott term themselves, not to use intimidation as a weapon for gaining the assent of the theater owners to plans to bar American pictures.

It is officially denied that Viscount Kijakiro Ishii has been selected to become Japan's new ambassador at Washington, though it is stated authoritatively that he is the most likely candidate for the post.

All the Japanese wishing to reach America before the exclusion act becomes effective have been accommodated and will sail today and tomorrow. These passengers will be taken by the N. Y. K. Mishi Maru, the O. S. K. Africa Maru and the N. Y. K. Kaga Maru.

Owing to all the passengers obtaining accommodation on these vessels the government has cancelled the special trip of the T. K. K. Shinyo Maru.

Engineers' Meet Hits Reclamation Projects

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—The business sessions of the tenth annual convention of the American Association of Engineers were concluded with the installation of the new officers and the announcement that Orlando, Fla., had been selected as the 1925 convention city. This is Orlando's first National convention, its representative announced.

Resolutions censuring the United States Reclamation Service for certain internal changes and asking for the employment of at least one professional engineer on all Federal, State and city engineering boards whose duties are primarily of an engineering nature were passed on by the convention.

Masons Plan Two Shows at Lorin

Two big shows will be put on at the Lorin theater next Monday and Tuesday evenings by East Bay Lodge, No. 489, F. and A. M. A different show will be featured each night with a special added attraction. The price of admission has been set at 25 cents and two children will be admitted on one ticket.

There will be three shows each day as follows: Matinee at 2:15 and evenings at 6:15 and 9 o'clock.

Japan Wont Bind Self Within Present Military Budget

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

GENEVA, June 14.—The Council of the League of Nations today instructed the secretary general to forward to all members the assembly resolution recommending that during the period necessary for the elaboration and adoption of a general scheme for reduction of armaments all the countries should not exceed the annual military expenditures provided for in their budgets for the present fiscal year.

Several nations, including Japan, made reservations to the instructions. Viscount Ishii, representative of Japan, said he would be happy to transmit the recommendation to his government, but he felt called upon to point out that the present Japanese budget was abnormal. It had been framed so as to embody the great reductions necessitated by the earthquake.

"All our expenditures were cut down to a minimum," he said, "and Japan cannot bind herself to any agreement not to increase her present outlay."

The council requested member nation to report what action they proposed to take.

Nimrod to Tell How to Throw, Hog-Tie Cougar

HOW Jay Bruce, California state lion hunter, proposes to rope and hog-tie a mountain lion, is the subject of an article by George C. Henderson in the Sunday TRIBUNE Magazine. Bruce, who is known as "The Nemesis of the Mountain Lion," plans to perform this great feat to provide a fitting climax for his two-reel cougar hunt film. Telling of the task which Bruce has set for himself, Henderson says: "To tackle a cougar is like mixing with a battery of buzz saws."

Other features in the Sunday TRIBUNE are: "Geraldine Asks Men to Defend Themselves"; "Influence of Demonology in Pacific Coast Murder"; "Around the World With Togo," by Wallace Irwin; "When the Queen Goes Shopping," by Eleanor Browne; "The First Mint in California," by Harry C. Peterson; "Hail to the Hiker," by Ad Schuster; "Butterfly," by Kathleen Norris; "The Story of the Bible," by Hendrik Van Loon; "Tourists," by Fannie Hurst; Aunt Elsie's Magazine, and the following comics: "Mr. and Mrs. ," by Briggs; "The Man in the Brown Derby," by Webster; "Reg'lar Fellers," by Byrnes and "Toonerville Folks," by Fox.

16 THEATERS PUT SECOND FILM OF 'LAFS' ON SCREEN

Names of Winners Will Be Announced Only on the Movie Curtain.

Today at 16 Eastbay theaters the second film of TRIBUNE "Local Lafs" is being shown on the screen. Only by attending the theaters can the names of the winners be learned. LEGAL NOTICE.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY ON EXECUTION.

No. 73706

Glenn Derbyshire, Plaintiff, vs. W. A. Knowles, Defendant.

By virtue of a Write of Execution, issued out of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Alameda, wherein Glenn Derbyshire is plaintiff and W. A. Knowles is defendant, upon a judgment rendered by the said Court on the 26th day of November, A. D. 1923, for the sum of $2274.33, gold coin of the United States, besides interest and costs, I have heretofore levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of W. A. Knowles, the therein named Defendant, of, in and to the following described Real Property, to-wit:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point on the easterly line of Santa Clara Avenue distant thereon twenty and 18-100 (20.18) feet southwesterly from the point of intersection of said line of said Santa Clara Avenue with the division line between lots numbered 15 and 16 in block lettered "U," as said Santa Clara Avenue and said lots and block are laid down and delineated upon that certain map entitled, "Revised Map of Oakland Heights, Alameda County, California," filed June 11, 1890 in Liber 9 of Maps, at page 54, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Alameda, State of California, running thence northeasterly along said line of Santa Clara Avenue forty and 24-100 (40.24) feet to a point on said line of Santa Clara Avenue distant thereon twenty and 6-100 (20.06) feet northeasterly from said point of intersection; thence southeasterly and parallel with said division line between said lots numbered 15 and 16 one hundred and thirty five and 4-10 (135.4) feet, more or less, to a point on the division line between lots numbered 15 and 14 in said block "U" (as laid down and delineated on said map) distant on said last mentioned division line twenty (20) feet northeasterly thereon from the most southerly corner of said lot numbered 15; thence southwesterly along said division line between said lots numbered 15 and 14, and along the division line between lots numbered 16 and 17 in said block "U" as laid down and delineated on said map forty (40) feet to a point on the division line between said lots numbered 16 and 17 twenty (20) feet distant thereon from the said southerly corner of said lot numbered 16; thence northwesterly and parallel with the aforesaid division line between said lots numbered 15 and 16 one hundred thirty-five and 28-100 (135.28) feet, more or less, to the point of commencement. Being the southwestern twenty (20) feet rear measurement of lot numbered 15, and the northeastern twenty (20) feet rear measurement of lot numbered 16, in block lettered "U" as said lots and block are laid down and delineated upon that certain map entitled, "Revised Map of Oakland Heights, Alameda County, California," filed June 11, 1890, in Liber 9 of Maps, at page 54, in the office of the County Recorder of said Alameda County, California.

Public notice is hereby given that I will, on Monday, the thirtieth day of June, A. D. 1924, at ten o'clock a. m. of said day, in front of the Broadway entrance of the Court House of the County of Alameda, in the City of Oakland, County of Alameda, State of California, sell at public auction, for gold coin of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendant, W. A. Knowles, of, in and to the above described real property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient money to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc.; to the highest and best bidder.

Dated, Oakland, Calif., June 7th, 1924.

FRANK BARNET,
Sheriff, Alameda County, California.
By J. J. HANIFIN, Jr.,
Under Sheriff.

7D HERBALISTS

A TESTIMONIAL FOR GLAND RELIEF

Oakland, Calif., May 29, 1924.

To whom ever it may concern:

I suffered from swollen glands of the neck for a year and a half during which time I went to a gland specialist who lanced the glands and in a month's treatment did no good whatever, so I decided to quit going to him. After quitting the gland specialist the swelling of the gland went down, but six months later it got worse than ever. Having read H. S. Low's, directing herbalist for the Sing Herb Co., advertisement in the Oakland Tribune, I went to him. The first herb treatment caused the gland to open and since that time the gland has been healing very rapidly and he says that as soon as the gland is healed that my old trouble will never come back. The gland is now all well. I have never felt better in my life than since I have been taking H. S. Low's treatments. My mother and I feel very grateful to H. S. Low for the treatments and the medicine that he has given me, for my mother used to worry a great deal about the outcome of my trouble.

BLOOD PRESSURE AND HEART TROUBLE RELIEVED

Oakland, Feb. 6, 1924.

I had high blood pressure, dizziness and heart trouble for about three years. After having tried many kinds of doctors, I went to a Chinese Herbalist but got no better. Then my friend, Mr. Haskell, told me to go to FONG WAN, who had cured him of Kidney Trouble of Fourteen years' standing. So I went to FONG WAN and he cured me in eight weeks. This was three months ago, but today I still feel like a new man. I am certain that FONG WAN is strictly honest. He charges no more than others yet his herbs bring quick results.

NEURITIS TESTIMONIAL

Dec. 18, 1923.

To Whom It May Concern:

In gratitude to Chan and Kong, Herb Co., I give my testimonial.

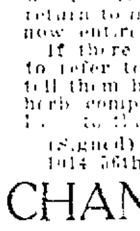

I have been a sufferer from Neuritis for nearly five months and for the last two months I was unable to tend to all or part of my work.

As a last recourse I decided to try your herbs. After only one week's treatment I was able to return to my daily work and I am now entirely cured.

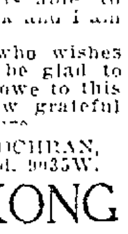

If there is anyone who wishes to refer to me I will be glad to tell them how much I owe to this herb company and how grateful I ...

The Oakland Tribune is a member of The Association of Newspaper Classified Advertising Managers, which includes leading newspapers throughout the country and has for its aim the elimination of fraudulent and misleading classified advertising. The Oakland Tribune as well as every other member of the association, endeavors to print only truthful Want Ads and will appreciate having its attention called to an advertisement not conforming to the highest standards of honesty.

Want Ad Section INDEX

Want Ad Classifications appear in numerical order and all related classes are grouped together. For example: All advertising of Rooms To Let is numbered 20 to 29. The numbers appear on the headings so if you seek room and board, look through the "20s". "Board" No. 25; and always follows Housekeeping Rooms (24) Note—Every "For Sale" or "To Let" heading has a "Wanted" classification with the same number but followed by the letter "A".

TODAY'S SHORT STORY

by Ad Schuster

NELLIE'S BOB.

NELLIE JONES forked squares of butter out of a jar of cracked ice and sang to herself. The singing, it must be understood, was all within the heart of Nellie, for she would not have had the patrons of the Blue Front hear the words or learn her secret. More than all she would not have the young man at the corner table learn that he was the subject of tender thought and melody.

"And yet," she said to herself, "he smiled at me today in the way I want to be smiled at."

By that Nellie meant the young man had not given her the regulation grin which greets the waitress and to which she expected to make appropriate return. This young man, Ralph was his name, smiled at Nellie with a frank admiration. So the song in the heart of the waitress rose high and the words were, "He likes me, he likes me."

At home Nellie considered herself in the glass. She felt that a great deal depended upon her appearance and wondered if there were not something which art could do toward improving nature. The other girls were having their hair bobbed. She held her hands so as to hide the lower part of her coiffure, to get idea of a bob, and smiled. Nellie was certain that her charms would be improved in direct proportion to the shortening of her hair.

The next evening Nellie confident after having received the congratulations of the kitchen and floor force, approached the table of the young man who had smiled. She was hoping that he would be surprised into a look that was even more revealing, that he would tell her how becoming it was and that—that—Nellie did not limit her hopes and stood now behind the man who was their object.

"Yes sir," the young man leaned over the table to talk to a companion, "I think that these girls who follow the fashion like a lot of sheep and go and get their hair bobbed, are a lot of geese. Give me a girl with a lot of old-fashioned hair!"

Nellie stared a brief moment trying to deny the words she had heard. Then she turned and made her way to the kitchen, the song gone from her heart.

"I'm goin' home," she said. "Put a girl on in my place. I'll try to be back tomorrow."

So Nellie went home with a pain in her throat and a weight upon her soul. Again she stood in front of her mirror, surveying the effects of shears upon her head and love's young dream.

"I'm licked," sobbed Nellie. "Licked by my own planning.' The figure in the mirror hid behind a veil of mist and with the tears came new resolution.

When Nellie appeared at the Blue Front the next day she was once more a cause for surprise. Gone was the bob hidden cleverly under a switch. To any except a practiced eye she was the Nellie of old. Not so confidently, yet still with a note of ho the song returned to her heart.

"He didn't see me. He won't know the difference," it ran. "After a while, before we get married, my hair will have grown. There's a chance yet, Nellie. You're not licked until your wig blows off."

When Nellie took the order from Ralph she had the delight of seeing him gasp in amazement and delight.

"Clean knocked him over that time," she said to herself. "Unless I guess wrong he'll be waiting outside for me when I quit work."

She guessed right. Raph hurried up to the girl before she had closed the door.

"Nellie," he said, "you do like me, don't you? Not as a customer, but as a man? Oh, I'm so glad Nellie, because I was afraid maybe you just looked on me as . . ."

"Say," the girl gasped, "what's all this about? But I do like you, if that's going to help."

"I know you do, I know you do," the young man all but sang. "Now tell me you will marry me and I'll tell you how I found out."

It was some time before Nellie reminded him of the bargain.

"When I was talking about bobbed heads the other day I looked up into the mirror and saw you standing behind me. I saw the look in your eyes, Nellie girl, and—and that's how I knew."

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

by Adele Garrison

BRIEF RESPITE.

"THEY'VE changed the management here," Dicky said as he led the way into the restaurant while Harriet and Edwin followed with me. "I don't know the new people, but they tell me it's quite amusing, and the food is good—will be for a week or two," cynically.

"It's always a safe bet to follow the trail of a new broom," his brother-in-law commented, and then we found ourselves in a brilliantly lighted and strikingly decorated room with small tables surrounding an open space, where, early as it was, a few people were dancing. A man whose manner conveyed the mixture of ingratiating deference and monarchial authority possessed only by head-waiters and department store walkers advanced toward us, and I saw his small eyes flicker rapidly, appraisingly over our party.

"A table for four," said Dicky, when he and Edwin had appeased an importunate boy with the delivery of their hats, coats and sticks, "where we can see well, but not too near the center of things."

The man bowed with the ready acquiescence which Dicky always manages to elicit from his ilk. "Ah! yes. I have exactly what Monsieur wishes, the view without the so much contact. This way, please."

He led us to a table which indeed was in an ideal location for our wishes—but Dicky hesitated for several seconds before saying with a touch of loftiness:

"This will do. Send us a waiter at once, please."

That he had slipped the man a generous tip I knew by the profoundly respectful gesture and prompt retreat of the table monarch. In his place there immediately appeared a waiter with menus and an order blank, while an omnibus went through the motions of his craft a few feet away.

Dicky turned to Harriet and me, [illegible]

"I want to be surprised," I said childishly. "Go ahead and order for me at least."

"For me, too," Harriet seconded. "But Edwin—"

She stopped, biting her lip, and I saw that she regretted betraying the supervision of her husband's diet which she was wont to exercise.

"The lid's off, Harriet," Dr. Braithwaite said rebelliously. "I'm going to eat everything Dicky orders, no matter what the consequences."

"There won't be any consequences," Dicky retorted. "I'll have you know I hold a certificate as dietician from the best cooking school in the country," and our laugh at his absurdity covered Harriet's confusion, which was made up, I guessed, of apprehension and resentment in equal quantities.

That Dicky could be wisely thoughtful beneath his foolery I well knew, and I was not surprised at his dinner order, which, while it would have been approved by an epicure, held none of the dishes that from Harriet's lips Dicky and I had learned were taboo to Edwin's digestive peace. But from the tiny canapes to the special cheese which was to come with the coffee, the dinner promised to be a gastronomic triumph, and when he had finished the order, we applauded him with softly clapping hands. But Harriet's eyes held gratitude.

I think that, her anxiety concerning her husband's physical welfare being allayed, she decided to throw off all other cares for the evening. At any rate she surprised me by the vivacity which embroidered her dignity as might jewels upon velvet, and by the apparent zest with which she entered into the gaiety of the evening, talking wittily, laughing appreciatively at Dicky's nonsense, even investing her stately dancing movements with a touch of modern extravagance.

"I haven't had so good a time in years," she said, as the coffee was served. Dicky had ordered the dinner in courses separated by intervals of a half hour or longer that we might have leisure for dancing. Her husband looked at her with approving eyes.

"We ought to do this oftener," he said. "It would do us both good. We stick pretty close to a professional schedule, Harriet and I."

"Why don't you retire?" Dicky asked with the bluntness of a favored relative. "You surely don't need to make any more money, and you've earned a long rest and play spell if anybody ever has."

A shadow crossed Edwin Braithwaite's mobile, expressive face, and I saw it reflected in his wife's eyes.

"A rest isn't what I want," he said, and the sub-conscious mournfulness in his voice spoiled the rest of the evening for me and haunted me for hours after we left the restaurant and went home to the apartment. For I knew from Harriet's remorseful confidence to me what it was that he wanted and now never could have—the companionship of children of his own.

TENDER AGE AND BURDEN OF MOTHERHOOD

CLOSE ADHERENCE TO THE NARROW PATH

THE BUSINESS OF SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS

Just because "there is nothing so pure and true as a baby's love and trust," the writer of the following letter thinks that 17, or YOUNGER, is NOT too young to bear children.

If that is true, why not INFLICT motherhood on children the minute they're physically capable? Their bodies are not strong enough, their experience is nil, their brains are not developed, but just because "babies are pure and true" make 16 or 14-year-old children MOTHERS!

Did you ever hear of anything quite so absurd?

Dear Jerry:

Monday morning, and not a darned thing done, but I didn't get to read your column until this morning and I just had to say something.

Who said 17 was too young to have children? Of course if you are sick, it is otherwise, no. I read B. B.'s letter and thought that she and hubby surely don't know the fun they are missing by NOT having a little chubby baby to call "Daddy" when he comes home tired and cross at night. I think it is simply one of the greatest blessings God ever gave us. There is nothing so pure and true as a baby's love and trust.

Now, Jerry, when I was just past 15 I left business college and got married. My folks didn't know anything about it until after it was all over. They knew I was going to be married, but it wasn't to be until I was 18 and finished my course. I was nearly 17 when my baby was born and I said then that I didn't want any more for awhile, at least, until we got a little better able to take care of it.

WAITING FOR A STRANGER'S ARRIVAL.

But sometimes we cannot say when we will or won't have them, because now we are waiting patiently for little sister's [illegible] old and as sweet as an angel. Of course he is not as good, being the only child and only grandchild on both sides. You can imagine what a spoiled child he really is. When he wakes in the morning and I go to get him, he will pat my cheeks and coo and kiss me, and Oh, Jerry, there is nothing more wonderful in the universe.

He was ill for quite awhile and almost died, and had to fight like a good fellow to pull him through and to keep up my courage. But I won out and a wee bit wiser for it.

No doubt you will say I was a foolish kid to do as I did, and I suppose I really should have finished school, but—I wouldn't change my lot with anyone in the world, because I am wonderfully happy.

I didn't intend to write quite so much, but I think the same as you do—if a girl is old enough to accept the responsibility of a wife, she certainly is old enough to accept the responsibilities of a mother. I am not quite 18 yet, [illegible] stranger comes, but I think I am able and capable of taking care of the two. At least I am going to do my best. I don't know it all by any means, but I can yet learn. I am strongly in favor of birth control, but I think two or three children make a beautiful family, don't you?

Good luck to you and the Gang.

A Little Mother.

What's the use? You and I, Gang, admire her courage and the fight she made, yet think of infant mothers raising infants. Experience is a cruel teacher, especially when the same information could be acquired INTELLIGENTLY and with no risk to human life.

It is not MY argument, but a PHYSICAL FACT that human beings are not through developing at 15, 16 and 17. Bones haven't their growth, muscles are stretching, and yet children, though ignorance and because of the "life urge," take on the additional burden of child bearing. One wants to weep over the pitfalls that [illegible]

And "A Little Mother" is not agreeing with ME when she says that when one "is old enough to accept the responsibilities of a wife, she is certainly old enough to accept the responsibilities of a mother."

Perhaps they SHOULD go together, BUT THEY DON'T.

I admire the little girl who wrote the above letter—admire her for the good qualities and courage she possesses—but, too, I feel sorry for the playtime youth she has lost.

MANY INTERESTED IN THE QUESTION.

Here's "Hoping" again. Folks, the girl who said, "What time should a 15-year-old girl be home at night?"

Dear Jerry:

Here comes your much talked of friend "Hoping" in defense of herself. I didn't expect you to turn my last letter over to the Gang, but if it will help other parents and their daughters come to an understanding, I can but say, "Glad you did so."

"What time should a 15-year-old girl get in after an evening's enjoyment?" seems to be a problem in many homes today. I thought that my case was rare, but from the many replies, I see that I am mistaken and that others are up against the same problem. Most of the writers sympathized with me, or I should say, with my problem.

The Gang did not like the idea of my going out for rides in the country, or my sitting out in front of my home in a machine talking over a few last things that pop up into one's mind just at the last moment. Jerry, can you tell me why the Gang thinks evil of me because I do this? Are they evil-minded? One writer, "Nearly Eighteen" says, "I don't think it is necessary to sit out in a machine for a half hour and talk, because usually you don't 'just talk.'" Now, just because she happens to know of someone who doesn't "just talk" has she any right to say that to me? It is wrong to condemn the majority for the actions of a few. If any [illegible] right in front of my home under the full glare of a street lamp?

I thought that such mischief was done in the darkest places.

Maybe you will think differently of me when I tell you that it was I who sent in Angelo Patri's literature on "Our Girls" and Edgar Guest's poem on "Myself." Jerry said, "Any girl that sends in such literature is on the right track."

I aim to keep right on walking down that track too. No tempting signpost on the side is ever going to cause me to detour. I'll take the longest way, but I am sure of my feelings. Jerry, do you want to know what is back of all this? MY GOAL!

My goal is to keep myself clean and healthy both in mind and body for the sake of the babies that I hope to have some day. Knowing that I can both, I will be justified in demanding health from my husband.

Hoping.

I guess we don't have to worry about Hoping going "straight," do we?

A LIVELIHOOD BY RINGING THE DOORBELLS.

The "peddler" who travels from door to door with his order book or his wares has been attacked in these columns. Charges have been made that he is quite often rude and that he is unnecessary. He has "come back"- several times—and his defense has been printed.

Now we have one more letter against him:

Dear Jerry:

I desire to say a few words on the "Peddler, Agent, Beggar" subject. I have three separate complaints to make against a LARGE PERCENTAGE of peddlers and agents, and they are as follows:

1. To those who sell worthless articles, thereby "stinging" the public and accepting money for articles not as they represent.

2. To those who positively refuse to leave your door when told kindly that you are not interested, thereby forcing the housewife to be rude and harassed beyond endurance.

3. To those who ring doorbells when a "No Peddler" sign hangs very plainly before their eyes.

I can prove each of the above three complaints. First, in regard to worthless articles. I think the permit inspector should investigate articles that the peddler is offering to the public and see if same has merit and is as represented and guaranteed. This evidently is not done, else the public would not get stung so much. For example, I purchased some stove polish that was represented to be absolutely "fire proof," and was demonstrated on the burners of my gas range with the guarantee that it would NEVER BURN OFF. I "bit," and consequently was stung before the evening meal was half cooked my burners were as red and rusty as before. This agent told me the polish was manufactured by a large corporation in San Francisco. Therefore I wrote these people telling them their goods were not satisfactory and in a day or two I received my letter returned to me as "unclaimed and unknown." Evidently no such concern existed. If the polish of the company, the public would have been saved several dollars. (I enclosed envelope for Jerry's personal inspection.)

Second. To those who will not leave and continue to harass you with their memorized threadbare harrangue. Every morning when I bathe my little baby, I am pestered with a peddler. About the time I get my baby in the water I have to answer the bell and find an agent. What am I to do with the baby? Leave her to wiggle off the table onto the floor, or wrap a blanket around her and take her through three cold rooms and then hold her after telling said agent a number of times I do not want anything, that I am busy bathing the baby and can't talk, and then wind up by shutting the door to finally get rid of him?

Third, any agent who rings a doorbell when there hangs a "No Peddler or Agent" sign, has his nerve and very little self respect, and deserves a shut door in his or her face, because he has been warned he is not wanted and is courting trouble when he rings that bell. The peddler and agent question is like other questions and issues that arise. There is a way it could be handled reasonably if certain laws governing same were strictly followed out, and each individual canvasser used judgment and sense, and would not force themselves on you when they are told you want nothing.

As the matter now exists, all I have to say is that about 90 per cent are a nuisance and should not be tolerated, as they are a menace to the public. I notice the business men will not permit them in their buildings, but they work and are busy. You'd think we housewives do nothing but play.

Postered.

I am writing no "defense." The men and women solicitors themselves have done that, but there is courtesy and kindliness on BOTH SIDES OF THE DOOR SILL as well as rudeness.

Does any one want a wistful-eyed, [illegible] dog?

Dear Jerry:

I hope you can find room in your column for this letter. I feel sure you can help out in this case like you have in all others.

A big milk truck ran over a small airedale puppy in front of my place this morning, injuring its hind legs. It's a good pup, but doesn't seem to have an owner.

I took it to a dog hospital with the kind assistance of a man, where it will be fixed up in fine shape in a few days.

I would like to keep the puppy myself, but dogs are not allowed where I live. If some one would care to have the dog you can give them my phone number and they can have it for paying the small doctor bill.

He is too good a dog not to have an owner. He is a little thoroughbred and his wistful eyes would win him a home if some one would go out to see him.

I will thank you in advance, Jerry, because I know you will find a home for this wandering [illegible] and others might fail. Very sincerely,

CLARICE PATTERNS

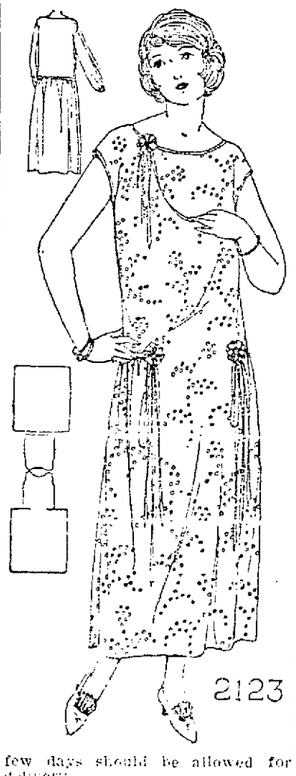

Youthful Style.
(No. 2123)

For a garden party or a summer dance, can't you picture yourself in this pretty frock made of printed dimity or flowered voile? A fancy crepe or bright colored taffeta would be nice, too.

The young girl would look her prettiest in it made in a Swiss dotted in red with narrow red silk ribbons for trimming.

The pattern for No. 2123 cuts in sizes 16 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 takes 3 yards of 36-inch material with 7½ yards of ribbon.

There are only two pieces to the entire pattern, reproductions of which are shown in the diagram. Even the amateur could cut and finish it in an hour or two at the most. Price 15c in stamps or coin.

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BARK BASKET.

"Nurse Jane says you are please to bring her a taper of packs," called Baby Bunty to Uncle Wiggily one day. It was the morning after the little rabbit girl had cried to have the Flinkie Bug up in her room, and that night it frightened the Burglar Fox, as I told you in the story yesterday.

"Nurse Jane wants a taper of packs?" cried Mr. Longears. "What are they?"

"Oh, I mean a paper of tacks!" laughed Baby Bunty, who was on a little visit to Uncle Wiggily. She is going to tack down the carpet in the parlor, and I'm going to help her. I'll come with you and help you get the taper of packs—I mean the paper of tacks, if you want me to," offered Bunty, eagerly.

"No, thank you!" cried Uncle Wiggily, quickly. "I can hop faster if I go alone, Bunty. Tell Nurse Jane I'll bring the tacks after I have an adventure or two."

Uncle Wiggily quickly hopped down the path from his hollow stump bungalow. He didn't want Bunty to come with him, for, though he loved the little orphan rabbit girl, still she was so full of fun and mischief that she was always getting into trouble.

"If I took her she'd stub her toe, or her hair ribbon would come off, or she'd lose a shoe or something like that, and I'd never get anywhere," said Mr. Longears to himself.

So, hopping along by himself, except that he had his pink, twinkling nose for company, Uncle Wiggily whistled a little jolly tune and looked on each side of the woodland path for an adventure.

The only adventure he saw, however, was where a little red ant lady was trying to climb up over a big stone, carrying with her a crumb of cake which Jackie Row Wow, the puppy dog boy, had dropped. While it was only a crumb, to the ant lady it was as large as a loaf of bread would be to a baby, and the poor ant creature was having hard work. But Uncle Wiggily saw her and said:

"Kindly let me help you, little red ant lady." So he lifted her and the cake crumb, too, over the stone as easily as you can eat a lollypop.

"Thank you," whispered the little red ant lady, and Uncle Wiggily bowed on his way with a low and polite bow of his tall silk hat.

This was the only adventure Uncle Wiggily found until after he had bought the paper of tacks for Nurse Jane. He was carrying them along in his paw, swinging them to and fro and thinking of what he would have for supper when, all of a sudden, the rabbit gentleman struck the paper of tacks against a tree. The paper box burst, the tacks scattered all about and Uncle Wiggily was sadly surprised.

"Oh, dear! This is too bad! All those nice sharp tacks lost and scattered on the ground! It will take me a week to pick them up, and I'll stick the sharp points in my paw—I know I will! Ouch, there's a stick now!" he cried as he put his paw on one of the tacks.

"What's the matter, Uncle Wiggily?" called a voice, and a large bird, with blue and white feathers, flew down out of a tree.

"Oh, I broke the paper of tacks and they're scattered all over the ground," said the rabbit. "I'll never be able to pick them up."

"I'll help you," offered the Blue Jay, for it was this bird who had spoken to the rabbit. "I can easily pick up sharp tacks in my strong bill and they won't hurt me. But what are you going to put the tacks in after I pick them up? If you drop them in your pocket they will stick through and prick you."

"They'll go (they will," agreed the rabbit. "Let me see—I need something like a box! Ah, I know! I'll peel some bark from that birch tree and make a little basket. I can carry the tacks in the birch bark basket and they won't stick through and prick."

From a white birch tree the bunny gnawed some strips of bark, and these he made into a basket. Then the Blue Jay picked up the tacks in his strong bill, dropping them into the bark basket. Uncle Wiggily picked up a few tacks, but not many, for they hurt his paws.

At last all the carpet tacks were picked up and put in the basket. Uncle Wiggily thanked the Blue Jay, and the rabbit was just going to hop along to his bungalow when, all of a sudden the Woozie Wolf jumped out from behind a mulberry bush.

"Wait a minute!" howled the Wolf as the rabbit was about to [illegible] "I haven't nibbled any ears today, and I'm going to taste yours!" He looked hungrily at the rabbit.

"You aren't going to nibble his ears?" cried the Blue Jay.

"Who will stop me?" boldly asked the bad Wolf.

"I will!" cried the brave Blue Jay. With that the bird flew down and picked two tacks out of the rabbit's bark basket. "Take that!" cried the Blue Jay, and he dropped the sharp point of one tack on the end of the Wolf's soft and tender nose.

"Wow!" howled the Wolf.

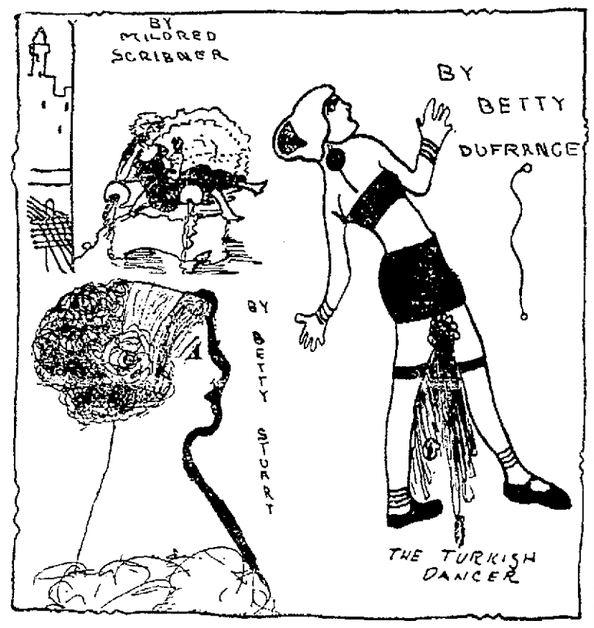

"Wait! Here's another!" Cried the bird, and he dropped the other tack on the Wolf's nose, making the bad chap howl again. Then the Blue Jay flew down toward the bark basket to get more tacks, but the Wolf cried.

"I've had enough. I'll go! I won't nibble any ears today!" And away he ran.

Then the bunny hopped home with the basket of tacks, and the carpet was fastened down. And if the pussy cat doesn't tickle the face of the clock with her tail and make it laugh when it ought to strike the hours, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the honeysuckle.

NOT BELIEVING

"Oh, I don't believe in that junk," replied little Louise.

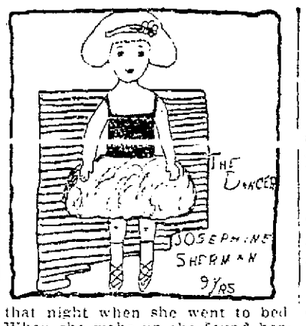

"Well I do," said Betty.

Louise was the oldest of the two, Louise was seven and Betty was five.

"Well, some day you will believe in my fairies. They come and dance around me before I go to bed and then they carry me to fairyland where queens and kings and little elfs live."

"Ah, puh, I don't believe in it."

But Louise was a little unusual that night when she went to bed When she woke up she found herself in the cutest little room ever. It was of pink satin with white roses all over the room. When she got out of bed she found a pair of little shoes with golden wings on them and a pink satin dress. She put the dress on and then the shoes. When she put the shoes on she started to fly.

"Good morning, my dear," replied a voice. Louise looked all around but she could not find anyone. "Your breakfast is waiting for you." When Louise sat down all she found was a little cup with dew in it and two buttercups to eat.

"Why, I can't eat this," she said.

"Oh, but dear, that is what we eat in fairyland!"

"Oh, I am in Fairyland," said Louise.

"Well, I will go to the queen and get you snakes to eat."

"But I don't eat that; I like grape fruit and milk and good things like that!"

"Oh, I see," said the voice.

When the voice came back it brought a little tray with every thing Louise liked. "When you have finished, ring this little bell. Good morning."

When Louise got down she rang the bell, wondering what would happen next.

Then came the voice: "Come along my dear." Louise followed and soon came to a room where there were hundreds of fairies and elves. Best of all was the throne where sat the tiny Queen.

"Sit down my dear and hear some music. The little elves rang some little bells and played on little harps. The fairies all danced around.

"That was nice," said Louise. "only I would like so much to go home."

"You can my dear," said the Queen," here is a wishing ring and a box. The box is full of jewelry. Goodbye my dear, I will hope to see you soon."

Louise found herself in her own little bed and when she got up she went straight to Betty. "Oh, Betty, I believe in fairies now. The queen gave me a box of jewelry and this wishing ring and now we can wish ourselves in Fairyland can't we?"

And Louise ran home to eat her breakfast and to tell her father and mother all about it.

Once in Denver, Colorado, lived a young man, Jim Fisher by name. Jim was 20 years old. He belonged to the N. W. M. P.

II.

One day the chief of the M. P. called Jim in his office and said, "Jim, Mr. Smith, the millionaire, has been murdered, and his daughter, Rose, has been kidnapped. I want you to get the murderer and bring Rose home; be back inside of two months." The chief said: "Good bye, and good luck to you Jim."

III.

The next day Jim was on his way to a place in the mountains where the murderers were supposed to be hiding. On the way up the mountain Jim saw a button. He got off his horse and pressed it. He saw a passage. Jim went in. He saw a door with G. S. on it, another door with F. on it and one with R. on it.

IV.

Jim went in G. S. and saw gold and silver. He went in C. he saw a girl. She told him her name was Rose and the murderers were in the next room. R. Jim took out his gun and went in the door. Jim saw the men were drunk. Jim said, "All hands reach for the sky." Jim told Rose to tie them up. He took the murderers outside. Jim put Rose on his horse and told her to follow Jim, then told the murderers to start walking. He reached the N. W. M. P. station and turned the murderers over to the chief. They were sentenced to be hung. The chief said to Jim: "There is a reward of $250.00 here, take it for it is yours." Jim gave the $250.00 reward to the poor people. Jim was promoted to a higher office.

VERA.

There are comparatively few Russian names in vogue in this country. Vera is the exception to the general rule which excludes such popular Slavic appellatives as Tatiana and Nastasia. Vera, indeed, is not purely Russian, since it appears in Spanish nomenclature; but in both languages it bears the same significance: that of "faith."

It is one of the twelve Slavic names which appears in the "Monument of Faith," a sort of devotional prayer book applied to each day of the year with the names of each saint appearing in the Russian calendar. For that reason, Vera has always been exceptionally popular as a Russian feminine name.

It is doubtful, however, if her derivation is responsible for her vogue here. Possibly she is the result of the early Spanish influence in the American colonies; or again, it may be that the shortness and euphony of the name is the explanation for its adoption and practical Americanization.

Amber is Vera's talismanic stone. It has power to make her invincible in all undertakings where bodily and mental health are required. It is said to ward off disease and to insure a safe journey when worn by a traveler. Monday is Vera's lucky day and 2 her lucky number.

FROM BAD JACK STEVENS TO GOOD JACK STEVENS
Prize Winner

Jack, a son of a rich family in the slums of New York. Jack, who did not sometimes get the things he wanted and would steal money from his father. Jack was the age of fifteen.

One day he did not get what he wanted so he stole some money from his father. That night Mr. Stevens, Jack's father, found the money missing so he asked Jack if he took it, but Jack said no.

Mr. Stevens went to Mr. Samson whenever he needed help. He told Mr. Samson to keep good watch over the house. This Mr. Samson did as he was told.

The next night Jack went and stole some more money from his father, but as he was ready to go out of the door a knife stuck in the door above his head with a note stuck to it which read, "Be careful, my boy."

That night Jack did not say a word to his father or mother about it, but the father knew who was taking his money, for Mr. Samson was on watch. So that night Mr. Stevens said to Jack, "Jack, my boy, I will ask you once again, have you been taking my money?" If Jack told the truth his father was going to forgive him. Jack took one look in his father's face and said, "Yes, I took it."

Jack was surprised to see his father smile and say, "My boy, I did this to see if you would tell the truth.

THE ADVENTURE OF JACK AND BILL
Prize Winner

On the Bar C ranch there was a great commotion, for fifty of the best horses had been stolen by a gang of rustlers. On this ranch there were two boys, Jack and Bill. These two boys went to the barn and got their horses, something to eat and some blankets and rode away. At 5 o'clock that afternoon the boys stopped by a stream, tied their horses to a bush and started out to shoot some game and Bill shot a rabbit. The shot alarmed the horses and the horses pulled at the bush. To the boys' amazement, the bush opened and they saw a passageway. They hurried through supper and then went into the passage. They walked for quite a while until finally they saw some light and hurried toward it. All of a sudden they came around a curve and found themselves outside at the top of a little canyon by the side of a river which they had walked under. Suddenly a shot rang out and a bullet came whizzing by them, then they saw some men down in the canyon driving some horses before them and they disappeared around a turn in the canyon. The boys quickly rode after them, when from behind a rock came, "Throw up your hands." Instantly Bill took out his revolver and shot at the man. The fight then started and you could see nothing but a cloud of smoke. When the fight was over there stood four rustlers all tied up with two boys covering them with guns. The boys then marched them to jail and got five hundred dollars each.

When Jack and Bill had grown up they became owners of a great ranch in Texas.

A CHANCE MEETING

By J. A. WALDRON

Amazed, he came upon her. She sat on the massive trunk of a fallen tree. Her gun leaned against it. There was no indication that she had noted his coming. Her expression would have puzzled a physiognomist.

He placed his gun with hers, sat down a little way from her, and coolly lighted a cigarette. The man who smokes cigarettes usually lights one in emergency.

"This is a happy surprise," he remarked.

"It's a surprise all right," she replied, looking away from him.

"And really I'm glad you arranged it."

"Guess again," she replied, without changing attitude or expression.

"Then you didn't arrange it?"

"I understood that you were down south somewhere."

"But I came back unheralded. It's plain you didn't arrange it. Perhaps there may have been something in your memories of our association, in spite of events, that led you to this part of my estate—to the scenes where we have hunted together. I note you are wearing a familiar costume. Where is your game?"

"I haven't any game. I still close my eyes when I fire my gun. When I went hunting with you it was for a purpose. I wanted to see what hunting was like, just as I wanted to see in other things the springs of action of the male animal. A study of the psychology of man."

"The male animal? The psychology of man? I hope you haven't pursued the study too—"

"Why should you be alarmed? We are nothing to each other now. And you're all alike. A thorough study of one man gives a fair idea of all men."

"Let's get down to the present. It must have been in response to memories that you came here."

"Not exactly. As I've told you, I didn't expect to meet you here."

"Granted. But confess that you have memories of me that persist—at least some happy memories. I have happy memories of you, in spite of certain facts and of your strange ideas when we were married—your notions of the equality of the sexes and all that. Do you doubt that I really loved you? I'll put in in the present tense. And I have happy memories."

"Most men have happy memories."

"But didn't you love me once?"

"I'm not sure. You know my idea of love. On man's side it's an ephemeral affliction that has enslaved woman down the ages, leaving her miserable after his convalescence. Do you remember that I exactly foretold what would happen to us—some of the things that would happen? As I thought, we hadn't been married a year before you resumed some of your bachelor habits, though you had professed that permanent isolation with me would be heavenly."

"And finally you got a divorce."

"For cause."

"I'm sorry."

"I suppose men who are divorced are sorry for one thing or another. Most men are not made for monogamy. They are polygamous by instinct if not by inheritance. They can point to the patriarchs as honored examples, and they secretly chafe at modern conventions."

"You are still a puzzle to me—and yet a charming puzzle. I never found out why you declined alimony."

"When I divorced you I also divorced your money. To my mind the woman who accepts alimony condones the offense."

"But that's no way to look at it. I was anxious, knowing your circumstances after you insisted upon relinquishing everything I had given you—every plan I had made for exigency—to provide some—"

"It was unnecessary. An attractive woman—a clever woman—and you among others have called me both—if she keeps her emotional balance and maintains a clear head can get along anywhere."

"But isn't it possible that we may patch up certain differences? I'm just the same as when—"

"That's the trouble. No. With all of its faults modern life has some compensations for error. Happily the courts—the laws—have improved upon the form 'Let no man put asunder.' I never make a second experiment along lines that once have failed me."

"But you'll give me credit for—"

"For a fancy reawakened. Yes."

"And you'll admit that finding you here I naturally supposed you might be thinking kindly of me after all."

"Perhaps. And really I don't think unkindly of you." She rose as a man advanced from a group that had just come into view. The newcomer bowed: "We're ready, Miss Bellamy."

"Miss Bellamy!" exclaimed the ex-husband.

"Yes," she replied. "It sounds quite professional, don't you think? I'm to be a modern Diana in a motion picture."

OUR BIKE.

One bright sunshine day last summer, a group of girls as following, went on a hike to Blue Rock Springs. The girls' names were Laura, Lida, Pearl, Norma, Rosie, Christine and Dorothy. We started early in the morning and planned to stay all day. We each took a lunch along. It was seven miles to Blue Rock Springs and as it was hot, we took our time.

We arrived there about 10 o'clock. One of the girls wanted to take a dive before we started our lunch so we all went in swimming until 11 o'clock. After we took a swim, we went for a little walk around the springs. Soon it was 12 o'clock and we were hungry, so we ate our lunch. Some of the girls had some left so we saved the rest for supper. One o'clock we went in swimming again on the other side of the tank. Two boys were hanging around and looked suspicious but we didn't pay any attention to them. One of the girls got hungry and went to get some fruit from our basket and she found that all of our lunch had been taken. The boys were nowhere to be seen so I guess they took the lunch. We got into our clothes and went to the other side of the Springs.

Some boy scouts went on a hike that same day and passed by Blue Rock Springs. They gave us something to eat. We thanked them and gathered up our things to return home as it was getting toward dusk. We came home around Benicia way and picked wild flowers. We arrived home at 6 o'clock. We were tired but not sorry that we went.

THE HIDDEN CHEST.

Once upon a time there was a girl and her name was Betty. She was 10 years old. There was a boy and he was 12 years old. Betty liked Billy, for that was his name. Betty lived in a house with her mother. Her father was dead. He died a year ago and they made their living by the mother sewing. Billy lived with his father. His mother was dead and the father worked and the boy sold papers.

One day the girl went out to sell a dress and was walking when she stepped on a hard thing. She looked down and saw nothing. She ran to Billy's house and called him and told him about it. He got a spade and they went to the place and he started to dig. Soon he struck something and got it out. It said on it, "Turn key," and they turned the key and it flew open and guess what they saw—a pile of gold pieces. They ran home to Betty's house and showed it to the mother. Her mother was very surprised and said, "Where did you find it?" They told her. She said, "Do you know who it belongs to?" They said, "No," and the mother then said, "Keep it." Then they went to Billy's house and the father said, "Keep it," and they did. Billy's father married Betty's mother and they lived happily ever after.

THE BLACK HAND.

On the ranch there was a great excitement because the foreman had been shot by a man with a mask. The man had brown eyes and a black handled revolver.

The foreman's name was Jim. One day while in town a boy about fifteen went into the saloon. The boy's name was Bill. When Bill walked in the saloon he saw a young fellow go by an old man that was asleep, and his little dog was near him. The young fellow gave the little dog a kick. When Bill saw this happen he jumped on the young fellow. The young fellow drew his gun but Bill was too quick. He had shot the gun out of the young fellow's hand.

One night while Bill was asleep he heard a noise. Bill put his hand on his gun when he saw a shadow. He shot and the shadow fell. When Bill went to see who it was, he found a man with a black mask and brown eyes and a black handled revolver. When Bill took off the mask he saw it was the young fellow which he had jumped on and Bill said, "I have my man that killed my father two years ago."

BETTY AND BILLY.

There was once a family by the name of Bray. They had two children. Their names were Betty and Billy. They were very good children and obeyed their parents. They were the best children at school and were very polite.

Once when they were coming home from school, they met a poor woman. The rain fell in torrents that day. The rain fell in torrents that day. The poor woman was hungry and cold and asked for help. So Betty and Billy pitied the poor woman. So when they came home, they asked their father for some money to give to the poor woman. Their father gave them some money and Betty gave it to the poor woman.

A few years passed and the poor woman's children grew bigger and had good luck and earned a good living. The poor woman did not forget Billy and Betty. So one Sunday afternoon she and her children came over to Betty and Billy's house and made them a visit and they all lived happily ever after.

THE MONTHS.

January brings the snow
In which the childrens' fingers glow.

February brings the cold rains
And then the lake is frozen again.

March the chill winds blow
As the kites very high go.

April brings gentle showers
And also all her pretty flowers.

May brings flocks of lambs
Roaming about their fleecy dams.

June brings her pretty flowers
And the children laugh because of no showers.

Hot July gives children time to play
In fruit orchards so gay.

Brown August brings good corn,
Then the children's appetite is born.

September sportsmen begin to shout
While the children still eat fruit.

October is loved by the peasants
Because to gather nuts is so pleasant.

Dull November brings the blast
Which whirls the leaves so fast.

Cold December is loved by small and tall
For kind Santa Claus treats all.

THE THREE HUNTERS.

Once near a forest lived three hunters. Their names were Harold, Frank and Mountford. As it usually happens, one of them was a coward. This was Harold, the youngest. Whatever the elder brothers did, Harold was always afraid that it was wrong or it wouldn't come out right and a thousand other things. Well up to this time, Harold's cowardliness did not account for much, but now the brothers decided to go hunt up an adventure. They told Harold that he was not brave and they would not take him. He promised and they set out.

After they had gone a little ways they heard a sound. Harold began to shiver but stopped when he got a nudge from Frank and Mountford. Then the sound came again. Harold tried to be brave but he failed. His cowardliness ruled him. He made a sudden dash, and some one caught him, and he disappeared. The two brothers did not know what to make of this when they woke up. They had been dreaming. They never saw Harold again though they searched high and low.

THE GIRL THAT CRIED.

Once upon a time there lived a little girl named Ruth. If anybody hit her, she would cry until she was sick.

One day a little boy said to her, "You big cry baby, you cry for nothing." Then he went away and got a bunch of children and they all laughed at her. She began to cry and went home and told her mother that she would not cry any more for nothing again. She went and told the children that she would not cry for nothing again. Then they said, "Hurrah for you!"

The next day was Ruth's birthday. She invited everybody she knew. While they were eating, a little boy wanted to see if she told the truth yesterday so he took a sling shot and hit her in the leg but she didn't say a word about it. Ruth was a very good girl ever after that and everybody liked her very much.

THE CAPTURE OF ONE-EYED PETE.

There was once a boy named Jack. He asked his mother if he could go out in the wood to play. His mother said "Yes." He always carried a gun with him. He took his lunch with him. When he got out in the woods he climbed up a tree. He looked around and saw a cave. He went to the cave and saw many doors. On one of the doors it said "Keep out." He opened the door and saw ladies and girls tied up. He untied them. He went to another door which said, "Beware." He went in and saw One-Eyed Pete and his gang. He pulled out his gun and said, "Hands up!" The robbers were surprised and put them up. Jack took them to jail and got $500 reward.

HIM THAT HATH.

Bradford sat near the front of the room within speaking distance of the teacher's desk. He was a slender, graceful lad with a handsome face lighted by beautiful dark eyes that reflected every shifting mood—eloquent eyes that told their story before the need of speech could be felt.

His hands were slim, quick-moving messengers of a keen swift mind. It was a pleasure to watch their sure direction of the pen that wrote the weekly composition, so cool, so deft, so certain. The teacher's set face lost some of its tension as her eyes rested on the star pupil.

Michael, stodgy, freckled and blundering, saw the look and his warm, moist hands grew warmer and wetter and he squirmed in his seat. His movement drew the attention of the teacher and instantly the smile left her eyes and the drawn, hard-set look took its place. For an instant they looked at each other, the dullest boy in the composition class and the skilled teacher.

The boy grew hotter and more uncomfortable, his pen slid from his fumbling fingers and rolled across the sheet, leaving a pathway of short black marks much like a railroad as it appears on the surveyor's map. The teacher pointed to the neat pile of papers on the desk. The finger looked like an icicle to the sweating lad who stumbled up the aisle at its summons and took another sheet of paper. "Better make it two," she said, without changing the evenness of her cold tone or altering a line on her face.

Michael took one sheet of paper and turned to go to his seat and caught, as he did so, a smile of understanding pass between the teacher and the star pupil. The red surged to his ears and dyed them almost purple, and for an instant he hesitated, then went on to his seat in the shadowed corner, his jaw set and the nice clean sheet crumpled in his hand.

The star pupil finished his paper long before Michael, who always finished last, and the teacher took it and read it over swiftly, exchanging pleasant talk with the writer, who leaned familiarly over her shoulder.

When all the papers were in, Michael slipped his under the bottom of the pile. He had done his poor best; he knew that it was poor but he couldn't bear to have the teacher look at it and tell him so just then. Besides, the teacher was busy with those who had written good stories and knew it. That evening she would take a pen full of red ink and make little balloons floating phrases like, "Too detailed," "This is confused," "Not clear," "Wrong word," over Michael's scarred battleground.

It happens that way so often in school. To him that hath shall be given praise and smiles and help and goodfellowship, but to him that hath not shall be given as little as possible of human contact. The Haths go on from glory unto glory, but the Hath Nots are thrown into outer darkness.

The school organization is to blame in the beginning. The Haths ought to be given a wider field for their activities, and a teacher who will keep them up to their possibilities without spoiling them, and the Hath Nots ought to have a teacher who has understanding and plenty of time to exercise it. There's many a fine soul choking to death in the back seat who might soar if the teacher understood and had the chance to help.

Things they Ask the Tribune

BUREAU OF INFORMATION

In regard to patents for mining claims The TRIBUNE Information Bureau suggests that the reader desiring this information consult some good patent attorney.

"I would like to know the address of Edwin Markham, the poet."

The address of Edwin Markham is Westerleigh Park, West Brighton, New York.

"Can you tell me how to get to Moss Beach, California by auto stage?"

There are four auto stages a day to Moss Beach from San Francisco. The time schedule for leaving San Francisco is 9 a. m., 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 5 p. m.

"Where can I receive information in regard to attending the Summer School at the University of California?"

For information in regard to Summer School requirements, registration, courses, etc., we refer the reader to the Dean of the Summer Session, California Hall, University of California.

"Please print the origin of the name 'Pinole.' Some say it is Spanish, others Italian."

Pinole is an Aztec or Indian word which means parched corn ground into meal. The town of Pinole was so named as the expedition under General Vallejo had nothing to eat but "Pinole" when waiting at this place for supplies from Monterey.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quick results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve, ask The TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S. COBB

What Makes the World Go Round

A party—a gay party—traveled to San Francisco in a private car. When their train arrived one of the travelers was in a highly jumpy state. He could hear brass bands whose playing was not audible to any one else and it was with difficulty that he checked himself in an inclination to run out in the road and stop runaways that were not there.

But a day or two of rest put him in a slightly better nervous state. That is to say, he thought he was better until on coming when he heard newsboys calling an extra and left his hotel and went downstairs and ordered to buy a paper. In a few minutes he entered back in, wan and wild-eyed and sent at his wit's end, after having a call for the house physician.

Presently that gentleman was shown in.

"Doctor," said the visitor, "I'm in a terrible shape. I came out here with a bunch of hellions and on the way I lapped up a good deal of liquor. I thought a little lay-off would fix me up, but it didn't. I'm beginning to see things."

"For instance, what?" asked the physician, reaching in his kit bag for a hypodermic needle.

"Well, for instance, a little while ago I went right down here to the corner below this hotel and I was standing there when all of a sudden I saw the Hearst building go up the street and the Call building turn around the corner out of sight."

The doctor put his little needle back in its case.

"Calm yourself," he said; "you were standing on a turn-table."

How to Get Rid of the Ant

The Ant being the most intelligent of insects, is quick to take advantage when the Scout Ant reports the discovery of food. Like magic, when the news is spread "food ahead" thousands of Ants will be in foods in your pantry and considerable damage may be done before they are discovered. Talbot's Ant Powder is deadly to the Ant, who knows well enough to stay away when it is near. Should you not ward the Ants off in time and find them in your foodstuffs, sprinkle a little Talbot's Ant Powder around the food and the Ants will quickly leave; also follow the line to where they enter the house and sprinkle with this powder,—in a jiffy this particular band will disappear. Ants come in various bands, therefore while you are ridding yourself of one, the Scout Ant of another may be reporting the good news, and a second band approaching from another direction. Take precaution, sprinkle Talbot's Ant Powder every few days around food and your Ant troubles will be solved. At all dealers, insist on Talbot's.

A REAL FLOWER GIRL.

It was the day before Cousin Alice's wedding, and everybody in the pretty little house was rushing around and running into every one else.

"I guess we're just in the way," giggled Betty Cut-out to Margie. They were to be the two flower girls at the wedding. "About ten people have nearly knocked me over, everywhere I go!"

"I know what let's do," cried Margie. "There's a field at the end of this street that's just full of daisies. Let's go down and pick a lot to help decorate the house. I heard Aunt Edna saying she wished she'd had time to get some more flowers. We'll show them we're regular flower girls."

Betty is wearing a lavender dress and lavender hat to pick flowers in. Tomorrow is the wedding, and then you'll see her in the prettiest dress yet.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

E. Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENE DUBE, 59 Woodbridge St., E. Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. There are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NO MONEY TO PAY DOWN

There are many people with a steady job who are paying rent because they have no money available to pay down on a home.

These are kind of folks I want to meet because millionaires are not of my class.

I have fifty big suburban house sites, scattered among the rich, prosperous little farms between Hayward and San Leandro, that I can sell you for $15 or $20 a month.

Summer is coming and I'll let you put a tent or a temporary house up upon payment of $15 or $20 and you can save your rent from the start.

This is a warm belt, free from fog, with wonderful soil for vegetables, flowers, etc. You can keep chickens. Stores, car lines and public school close by, and attractive homes all around.

I live here myself and can refer you to thirty or forty families who started with $15 or $20 and who now own their homes.

I am a machinist by trade and believe I have a proposition different from the kind generally offered by real estate men. For instance, I charge no interest, and no taxes for one year.

Investigate it. If you don't like it, all right. I'll not bother you because I am too busy with other matters. Come out. I'll give you a map, and you can look around all alone if you want to. Take Hayward electric car and get off at Castro Valley road, 2 miles this side of Hayward. You'll see my sign. John A. Doxey, Castro Valley road and East 14th street, Hayward.

SNAP

4-room stucco bungalow, one-half acre, city water, lights, gas and phone; $250 down, balance easy. W. H. Burchill, corner of Sunset blvd. and Castro, Hayward.

"ASK THE ENVELOPE" AND KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT
HOWARD USED CARS
What road signs and road maps have done for the automobile driver the "Envelope Plan" has done for the Used Car buyer. This new day method of "mapping the history" of a Used Car eliminates "bad curves" and hidden dangers. It straightens and smooths the road to a safe investment in a reliable automobile. "Ask the Envelope" and the complete history of any of our good used cars will be right out where you can see it.

ENGINEERS ARE GUESTS IN OAKLAND

East Bay Club Entertains 118 Members of American Association From Annual Convention On in S. F.

One hundred and eighteen engineers from all over the United States were the guests of 50 members of the East Bay club of the American Association of Engineers today in celebration of "Oakland Day" of the tenth annual convention of the American Association of Engineers which is being held in San Francisco.

The convention delegates left San Francisco on a special boat to visit Oakland and met at the foot of Broadway at 10 o'clock by a delegation from the East Bay club, headed by C. A. Templeton.

In automobiles, furnished by the East Bay club and the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of W. B. Boggs, second vice-president of the local club, the delegates were taken on a tour of Eastbay.

COMPRESENSIVE TOUR

The itinerary of the trip included visits to the proposed naval base site at Alameda, the Moore Shipyard, The TRIBUNE, city hall, Technical High school, Piedmont, Lake Merritt, Montgomery Ward and Company, General Electric, Chevrolet, Durant, Fisher Body and Fageol plants, Mills College, the Skyline Boulevard, the Claremont sub-station, the University of California, the burned area of Berkeley and the western waterfront.

A picnic lunch at which Mayor John L. Davie gave an address was held at noon at the East Bay Water Company picnic ground No. 1, on the Skyline boulevard. A short talk was given by Harry Reinhardt, assistant chief engineer of the water company.

NOTED ENGINEERS HERE.

Among the engineers of national reputation who visited Oakland today were: John Almert, newly elected president of the American Association of Engineers; Webster L. Benham, past president; G. M. Butler, past first vice-president and dean of the University of Arizona; Morris Bien, first vice-president of the United States Reclamation Service; C. E. Drayer, secretary of the association, of Chicago; W. H. Marsh of Portland, Ore.; Hubert C. Ferry of Los Angeles; F. E. Newell, former director of the United States Reclamation Service, now of Chicago; C. J. Ullrich of Chicago; James T. Whittlesey, California railroad commissioner; Charles Gilman Hyde, president of the East Bay club; Thomas H. Means of San Francisco, a director; W. R. Harrison of Chicago, a director; Donald M. Baker of San Francisco, director for the western district, and Roscoe Kent of Orlando, Florida, where the next year's convention will be held.

KIWANIS TO HEAR SPEECH BY RADIO

ALAMEDA, June 14. — Plans for a joint meeting of Eastbay Kiwanis clubs to be held Monday evening at Neptune Beach were made last night at a meeting held in the offices of F. J. Croll, secretary of the Alameda club, in the city hall. The Alameda club will entertain the Oakland, Berkeley and San Leandro clubs.

A special feature of the affair will be the "listening in" over radio on the speech of the grand president of the club at the international convention in Denver, Rev. Harvey Miller, vice-president of the club, will preside at the meeting.

Dr. Arthur Hieronymus, president of the club; Leo Robinson, district trustee, left today to attend the convention in Denver, which will be held from June 16 to June 19.

Fire Set by Candle Damages Building

BERKELEY, June 14. — The ready combustibility of filmy chiffons and crepe de chines was demonstrated last night by Mrs. S. Tanitz, 1517 Shattuck avenue, who accidentally set fire to her wardrobe while searching with a candle in a closet for a pair of slippers.

DESPONDENT DOMESTIC HANGS SELF

Bad News Contained in Letter From Home in Sweden Is Cause of Act; Berkeleyan Takes Gas, Dies in Hospital

BERKELEY, June 14.—A letter received from her old home in Sweden yesterday afternoon is believed to have been the motive for the suicide last night of Miss Katherine Isaacson, 35, a domestic, who hanged herself in a vacant house at 2709 Forrest street.

Only one page of the letter, the last page, containing inconsequential social items of her native community, could be found by the police today. The numbering of this page indicated that the letter had been a lengthy one, written by the deceased's sister. After investigating the circumstances of Miss Isaacson's death, the police concluded that it had resulted from a sudden despondency induced by the information in the letter.

HANGING FROM RAFTER.

The body was discovered this morning by T. Hughes when he entered the vacant house to make arrangements for moving in. It was partially suspended by a rope that had been fastened to a rafter on the back porch.

Miss Jasaacson was employed as a maid by Mrs. M. M. McLaughlin, 2703 Forrest street. John E. Morris, father of Mrs. McLaughlin, who was the last person known to have seen her alive, said that the woman was in the McLaughlin residence at 8:30 o'clock.

BAKER TAKES GAS.

Martin P. Larsen, 51, a baker, died last night at the Berkeley General Hospital as a result of taking gas with suicidal intent at his home at 1349 Hearst avenue on Thursday. Larsen became despondent when his bride of a few weeks deserted him. He was taken to the hospital after he had been discovered lying unconscious on the floor of a gas-filled room in his home by Patrolman George Kohler, who was summoned by neighbors.

He left a note to his wife, Kate Larsen, to whom he had been married about a month.

Artist Slayer's Parole Plea Up To Prison Board

The application for parole made by George Kodani, a Japanese sentenced to life imprisonment on a murder charge, came up before the state board of prison directors in session today at Folsom penitentiary. The members of the board are George A. Van Smith, James Emmett Olmstead, J. T. Mattos, Thomas Gannon and Fred Morrish.

Kodani was sentenced from Monterey county, charged with the murder in November, 1914, of Helen Wood Smith, who was a member of the art colony at Carmel.

He hid in Del Monte forest, but later gave himself up. He was 22 at that time. Helen Wood Smith was 40 at the time she was killed. She and Kodani were both artists. Kodani is also a photographer. He is said to have been an exemplary prisoner.

IMPROVERS ASK SAFETY STATIONS

Daniel Webster Club Decides to Request Council to Put Improvements on E. 14th; Park Purchase Endorsed

The Daniel Webster Improvement club will ask the city council to place a safety station on East Fourteenth street and Eighty-third avenue, and, if possible, one every five blocks on East Fourteenth street, as a result of a motion adopted at a meeting last night in the Daniel Webster school on Birch street and Eighty-first avenue. The club will also ask the Oakland Traction Company to change the stopping point of their cars on East Fourteenth street and Eighty-third avenue, from the west side of Eighty-third avenue to the east side, claiming there is a sharp curve on the west side, allowing very little space between the tracks and the curb, which endangers the lives of alighting passengers.

The purchase of the 496-acre Durant park site by Oakland was unanimously endorsed by the club, after several members spoke in favor of the plan. The cost of this park to the city would be $347,200, according to E. Westigard, one of the committee appointed to investigate the probable purchasing of the park.

A vehement denial of statements regarding a controversy at a recent meeting between A. Quintal and Commissioner Moorhead, published in a local paper, was made by uintal.

EXPLAINED BY QUINTAL.

"There was no disorder at the meeting," said Quintal, "and the audience was not required to restrain anyone. Mr. Moorehead spoke on the school bond question, and at the conclusion of his address offered to answer questions from the members of the club. My purpose, which was said to have caused a disturbance, was to call the attention of the commissioner to the fact that the club had proposed to the board of education that 12 classrooms and an auditorium be added to the Webster school, and that the attendance in each class be restricted to 35 pupils, and that the club should share in the honor of initiating this work."

Quintal last night suggested that a motion be adopted by the club requesting better police protection for East Fourteenth street in the vicinity of Eighty-first and Eighty-third avenues.

AUTO CAMPS DISCUSSED.

"Should we have auto camps in our district?" was the subject for a debate following the business session. F. S. Gladding took the affirmative and Quintal assumed the negative. Gladding contended that auto camps were the means by which many new people were brought each year into a community, and cited as an example the Los Angeles auto camps. Quintal opposed Gladding's statements, stating that many automobile campers were undesirable, and that the location of an auto camp in a district such as Elmhurst would materially lessen the value of the surrounding property.

The discussion grew out of a rumor which arose a few months ago, that an auto camp was planning to locate south of East Fourteenth street on Eighty-first avenue. A petition was circulated to offset the granting of a permit to such an enterprise, but it was unsuccessful, and a permit was granted. On April 10, the improvement club sent the following letter to each of the city commissioners:

"Dear Sir: Just a line to thank you, Mr. Commissioner, for the injustice done to us in granting a permit for the Auto Camp on Eighty-first avenue over the protest of 109 residents of this vicinity against only nine signatures in favor of the camp.

"Yours very truly,
"DANIEL WEBSTER IMPROVEMENT CLUB,
"Mrs. E. Hartwig, Secretary."

DELEGATE TO KIWANIS MEET.

SAN LEANDRO, June 14.—W. B. Hawksworth left yesterday for Denver where he will attend the international Kiwanis convention starting Monday and ending on Thursday. Hawksworth will remain there for about two weeks touring Denver and the surrounding communities.

Baby Offered for Auction Wins Both Mother, Father

Jackie Thompson, 18-months-old boy who was placed on the auction block by his mother, Mrs. June Thompson, not only has won his mother, through her decision not to part with him, but his father as well.

The lad's father, living at Fort Wayne, Ind., has signified his willingness to effect a reconciliation with the mother and his desire to give Jackie a home and the love of a mother and father.

Thompson's wishes were conveyed in a communication to Los Angeles authorities by his mother, Mrs. J. W. Thompson, who said that even if the mother was unwilling to return to her husband that the child would find a good home with the father and grandmother.

"I have known of people who have had to suffer a great many sacrifices and hardships for their little ones," she wrote, "but the case must be extreme indeed that would bring a mother to the point where she is willing to sell her own flesh and blood like so many pounds of beef."

An indication that Mrs. Thompson may have acted upon her husband's offer was had today when it developed that she had left her Oakland residence and departed for parts unknown without giving a forwarding address.

Saan Leandro Mayor On Summer Vacation

SAN LEANDRO, June 14. — Mayor Edwin Duck and family left this morning for Eureka where they will spend a two weeks' vacation visiting relatives. They will make the trip by automobile. During Mayor Duck's absence Howard Bronstein will look after the affairs of the city.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

SAN LEANDRO, June 14.—Members of the Methodist Sunday school held their annual picnic today at Lake Chabot ground. Children of the Sunday school were guests. Each one brought a basket lunch and the program for the affair included games, races and contests. A large crowd was present and the affair lasted all day.

MACOMBER TELLS WHY WIFE FIRED

Former Policeman Says He Informed Spouse "You Are Fine as Sweetheart, But Make Mighty Poor Wife"

"You are fine as a sweetheart but you make a mighty poor wife."

These were the words that immediately preceeded the shooting of A. H. Macomber by his divorced wife, Fannie G. Macomber, who is on trial in Superior Judge Fred V. Wood's court on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Macomber told his story of the shooting at the opening of testimony late yesterday afternoon. He denied that there had been any quarrel, and said that he and his former wife had walked around his beat in the lower Piedmont district for over an hour just before the shooting. Macomber at that time was a member of the Oakland police force.

Macomber's uniform coat, the discussed their marital difficulties in a dispassionate way, and that he gave her his opinion of her as a wife and a sweetheart. He then told her she had better take the street car for home as it was getting late. The next instant the shot was fired, he said.

Macomber's unifor mcoat, the revolver and three books, two completely and one partly pierced by a bullet were introduced in evidence as was the bullet itself. Macomber identified the books as his memorandum book, copy of the motor vehicle law and book of report tags. He said they were in his right hand pocket and the bullet fired by his wife struck him on that side but failed to inflict a wound because stopped by the books.

Grocers Delegates Entertained in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Delegates to the forty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers, are being entertained in this city prior to going to Los Angeles for the conclave. There are about 2400 delegates here with their wives.

The delegates are due in Los Angeles June 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Philip De Lapp of New York, president of the national association, arrived here last night. At that time four special trains came bearing 1200 delegates.

GIRL WINS $100 THROUGH RECORD IN SCHOLARSHIP

PIEDMONT, June 14. — Miss Murial Block of this city has been awarded a $100 savings account for achieving the highest scholarship record at the Piedmont High school this term. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Block, 109 Arbor Drive.

Miss Block is 14 years of age and is in the Sophomore class. She is the only student in the school who won the grade of "one" throughout the term.

The award made by a local bank, of which S. E. Biddle is president, was made for the purpose of encouraging scholastic achievement and thrift.

Mrs. Block stated that her daughter does not spend any more time in home study than is usual for a high school student, but that she applies herself to her work while she is at school.

PISTOL SHOTS AND CRASH STIR NEIGHBORHOOD

BERKELEY, June 14.—Two pistol shots, the crash of breaking glass and the sight of two men running down College avenue aroused residents in the neighborhood of College avenue and Derby streets at 1 a. m. today, and brought a hurry call for police from Mrs. Bertha A. Howard, of the Marguerite Apartments at College avenue and Derby stret.

Patrolman L. D. Browning responded to the call and completed a search of the neighborhood, but no trace of the running men or cause of shooting was found.

Native Daughters Give Play, Dance

SAN LEANDRO, June 14.—Local Native Daughters are convinced that Friday the thirteenth is lucky, as last evening "Bushe's Girls," a three act play, was presented by the parlor at the Masonic hall and it was a success financially. Several vaudeville and musical numbers preceded the play which was held under the direction of Miss Corrine Rose. A dance concluded the program for the evening.

Dancing Students To Give Recital

SAN LEANDRO, June 14.—Several San Leandro pupils of Miss Marie Zabala, prominent dancing teacher of San Leandro and Hayward will take part in a dance recital to be held on Tuesday evening at the Native Sons in Hayward. Those taking part are Mary Morgan, Agnes Lunn, Pauline Magnuson, Jean Davidson and Helen Frank.

Dr. Benton on Way To Kiwanis' Meet

BERKELEY, June 14.—Dr. J. J. Benton, president of the Berkeley Kiwanis club, is today on his way to eDnver to represent the local club at the annual convention of the Kiwanis International to be in session from June 16 to 19. A special train of eleven Pulman cars is carrying the California delegation to the convention.

150 ALAMEDA BOY SCOUTS OFF FOR TUOLUMNE CAMP

ALAMEDA, June 14.—One hundred Boy Scouts left this afternoon for a three weeks' camping trip on the banks of the south bend of the Tuolumne river in Stanislaus county. The boys are making the trip under the leadership of H. W. Platz, scout executive, aided by assistant scout leaders.

A physician and nurse have been obtained to attend the boys during the trip and a retired army mess sergeant will superintend the cooking and serving of meals. Camp life will be regulated by an orderly program for each day's activities by which the boys will arise at 6:30 and retire by nine o'clock each night.

The boys will leave San Francisco this evening by special boat to Stockton and from Stockton 150 miles to the camp site by automobile truck.

Special competition in out-door life and for merit badges will be conducted while the boys are at the camp.

LOVE NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 14.—The superstition attached to Friday the thirteenth means nothing to at least 10 couples. That number applied for marriage licenses here yesterday, according to county auditor's records.

Upper Claremont Scenic Homesites

Exclusive "Upper Claremont" RESTRICTED DISTRICT

An Invitation—

You are cordially invited to attend the formal opening sale of the last remaining 26 scenic, exclusive home sites, comprising my former stock ranch, known as Claremont Guernsey Farm.

When I settled here a good many years ago and began raising blooded cattle on the several hundred acres, Oakland was a small town, and Berkeley merely a suggestion of its present greatness.

Today, with the dismantling of the last unit of my cattle sheds, with the pleasant homes springing up around, the lighted streets and paved roadways, I know the old ranch must yield to the spirit of East Bay progress.

Every one of these lots are good, and whether you buy for home building or for investment you will be fortunate. I am confident that in twelve months their value will double. A neighbor of mine here has two lots no better than some of mine and will not consider an offer of $2500 apiece for them.

My prices range from $600 to $1985—but call and see them yourself and be convinced. A small payment down will reserve any lot for sale.

Sincerely yours,
L. Dee Smith, Sole Owner.

Scenic Home Sites

—Located near the heart of Oakland's most aristocratic residence section, among the spreading oaks—magnificent bay view.

—Paved streets to property, sewers, Electrolier lighting, cement walks — ready for the building of that home you have so long wanted.

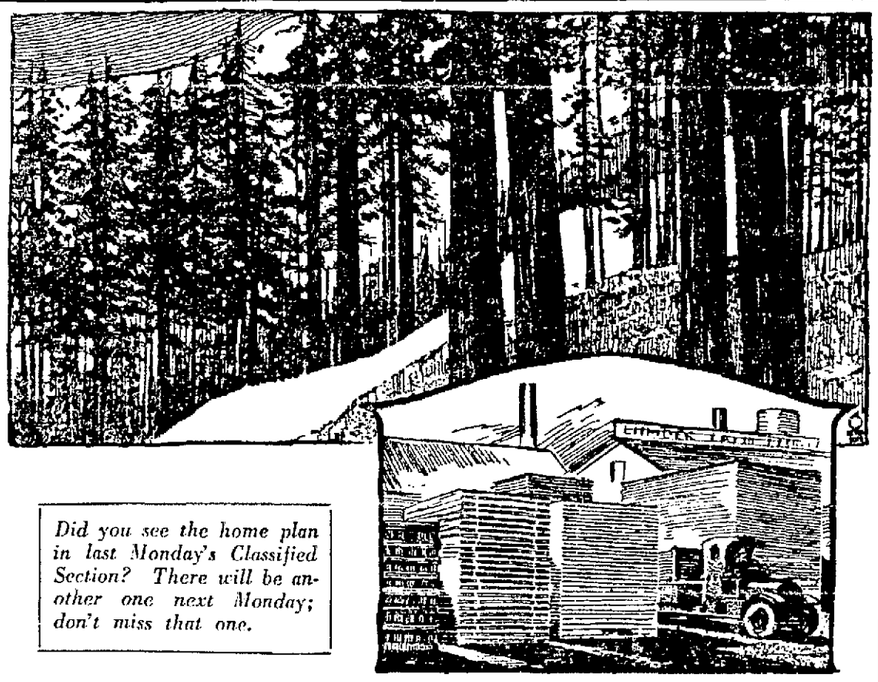

—Sizes 55 and 60 foot frontage, depth 125 to 150 feet.

—You may buy these lots on practically your own terms. Price $600 up.

—Only a limited number of these beautiful scenic resident lots will be offered for sale at lowest prices in this exclusive district.

—Buy for home building or as an investment—you will profit either way. We can truthfully predict that their price will double within the next eight months.
